At the Thirtieth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen Street, on Tuesday, May 4, 1830.

The Right Hon. LORD GAMBIER, Vice-Patron and President, in the Chair.

The Report of the Committee having been read by the Secretaries,

On a Motion by the Hon. and Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, seconded by the Venerable Archdeacon Hodson,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has been read, be received and printed, under the direction of the Committee; and that this Meeting desires to express its grateful sense of the many indications of the Divine Favour which have been vouchsafed to the Society during the past year.

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, seconded by the Rev. James Milnor, D.D., Rector of St. George's Parish, New York,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the thanks of this Meeting be given to the very Reverend the Dean of Salisbury, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to the Noble President of the Society; to the other Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents; and to all those Friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen are appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Chester, seconded by Thomas Fowell Buxton, Esq. M.P.,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the opportunities which, from year to year, present themselves for the extension of Missionary Labours, where Missions have been already established, and in other parts, should be regarded as special calls on the Church of Christ, to rise with increased self-denial, zeal, and liberality, to the sacred duty of proclaiming the good news of Salvation throughout the world.

On a Motion by the Rev. John Hartley, Missionary from the Mediterranean, seconded by Sir George Grey, Baronet,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That while the difficulties connected with the operations of the Society in various parts of the world, and especially the diminution of its Labourers in North India, should lead the Members of the Society to a sense of dependence on Almighty God, they have abundant subjects of praise, in the preservation of the Labourers in Western Africa during a season of prevailing sickness, in the increase of Native Teachers in the North-India Mission, and in the continued blessing which has accompanied the Preaching of the Gospel in the District of Tinnevelly.

On a Motion by the Rev. William Smyley, Rector of Aghanloe, seconded by the Hon. and Rev. Gerard Thomas Noel,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, deeply convinced that God is the Source as well as the End of all Scriptural Efforts for the establishment of His Kingdom in the world, this Meeting would affectionately urge on the friends of the Society the duty of earnest and habitual prayer, that He would strongly impress on His Church the sense of her solemn responsibilities; that He would bestow on her more faith, and love, and devotedness; and that He would employ her more extensively for the manifestation of His Glory in the salvation of perishing Sinners.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by Patrons, Vice-Patrons, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRONS of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection. VICE-PATRONS shall be appointed exclusively from among the Peers, Spiritual and Temporal. The PRESIDENT shall be such Peer or Commoner, and the VICE-PRESIDENTS such Commoners, as may be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upwards, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upwards per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upwards, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upwards shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday, the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

ON THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church) a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often; and at such places as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, Secretaries, and Lay Secretary, shall be considered ex-officio Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All Payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Secretary or Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued:—The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success

NAMES OF MISSIONARIES AND OTHER LABOURERS.

MAY, 1830.

 By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married; (w) Widow.—Wives of Missionaries &c., though not named except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among the Native Females; as, by cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating the Children, and instructing the Adults.

CHURCH MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

WHEN a disposition appears in any place to assist the designs of the Society by establishing an Association in its support, a Meeting of persons favourable to such a measure should be called. The friends who meet for this purpose should form themselves into a "Church Missionary Association, in aid of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and should proceed to appoint a Committee and proper Officers.

In large Towns, comprehending several Parishes, it may be expedient to appoint a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary; with a pretty numerous Committee, composed of persons from the different Parishes.

In Parochial Associations, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and a smaller Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, may be best suited to conduct the business.

It may sometimes be found expedient to form Associations in Separate Congregations in the same Parish, rather than one Association in the Parish at large; and in this case also, a Treasurer, Secretary, and Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, will suffice to accomplish the object.

In a Voluntary Union of Friends, whether the members of the same family, the children of a school, or persons connected by affinity or friendship, such arrangements may be made as may prove most convenient to themselves.

In this manner, Benevolent Persons, willing to assist the designs of the Society, from the domestic circle to the largest town, may unite for a purpose most beneficial to their own minds, while it expresses a due regard to the glory of God in the salvation of the Heathen, and a proper sense of their own infinite obligations to Divine Mercy.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS SUITABLE FOR ASSOCIATIONS.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be, all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward, or, if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea; and also such Persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, or, if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per Annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Reports of this Association, and also the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at all their General Meetings; and Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will receive either a Copy of each Monthly Number of the Church Missionary Record, or the Annual Report of the Parent Society.—Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at all Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors.

VI. The business of the Association shall be under the management of a Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, Secretaries, Governors, and a Committee not exceeding ——— Lay Members of the Established Church, and of all Clergymen who are Members of this Association. The Committee to meet on the ——— in the months of January, April, July, and October, at ——— o'clock; Five Members being competent to act.

VII. The object of the Committee shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed Persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society; and to recommend proper Persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary Information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VIII. The whole of the Funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society in aid of its designs.

IX. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day in the month of ——— as shall be found expedient (of which due notice shall be given), when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be presented.

MATTHEW, IX. 36—38.

BUT WHEN HE SAW THE MULTITUDES, HE WAS MOVED WITH COMPASSION ON THEM, BECAUSE THEY FAINTED, AND WERE SCATTERED ABROAD, AS SHEEP HAVING NO SHEPHERD. THEN SAITH HE UNTO HIS DISCIPLES, THE HARVEST TRULY IS PLENTEOUS, BUT THE LABOURERS ARE FEW. PRAY YE, THEREFORE, THE LORD OF THE HARVEST, THAT HE WILL SEND FORTH LABOURERS INTO HIS HARVEST.

TO one who truly understands and deeply feels the value of the Gospel, there can scarcely be a more painful or affecting subject of reflection, than the state of the multitudes who are destitute of this unspeakable gift of God to a lost and ruined world. The forms of misery which everywhere abound are, indeed, so striking and numerous, that a benevolent mind must be sensible of continual calls upon its sympathy and compassion. But, amidst the variety of wretchedness which thus presents itself, the Christian, who has been taught how to estimate things aright, will feel himself most powerfully impressed, and most deeply interested, by the view of the moral misery, of the spiritual disorder and desolation, which surround him. The reason of this is obvious. Calamities which affect only the body, or which are confined to man as a social being, are all of a partial and temporary nature. They may embitter and even destroy the lives of those who are the unhappy subjects of them. But what is the life of man? or what is the amount of any calamity, the utmost rigour of which is bounded by the narrow limits of a few short and fleeting years? Man is an immortal being; destined to live beyond the present transitory scene; and to be an inhabitant, either in happiness or misery, of a state which shall know no end. It is this momentous fact, ascertained beyond all reasonable doubt by the Revelation of HIM who has brought life and immortality to light, which renders the spiritual and moral condition of mankind a subject of infinite and incalculable importance. And when it is further considered, that this immortal being is at the same time fallen and corrupt, prone to error and sin, and consequently, when left to himself, in the most imminent danger, not only of present but of future misery, it cannot be questioned, by any serious and reflecting mind, whether the spiritual and eternal interests of his fellow-creatures do not prefer the strongest claims upon his attention and compassion.

It was the contemplation of this moral wretchedness which, during His short abode upon earth, chiefly called forth the pity and compassion of our Divine Redeemer. HE was, indeed, touched with the feeling of ALL our infirmities; and bare our sicknesses, and carried our sorrows: yet this was a compassion far inferior to that which He felt and manifested for the ignorance, depravity and wickedness, for the spiritual misery and spiritual danger of a fallen and perishing world. It was under this impression that He regarded the multitudes before Him, and addressed to His Disciples the words which I have chosen for our present consideration. At the period to which it relates, Jesus was in the midst of His Ministerial labours; going about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But when He saw the multitudes, which were eagerly following Him from various and very distant quarters, He was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith He unto His Disciples, The harvest truly is plentiful, but the labourers are few. Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the Harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest.

I know not, my Brethren, that we can be more appropriately occupied, assembled as we are for the purpose of assisting the labours of a Society engaged in the pious and charitable work of promoting the knowledge of the Gospel among the Heathen, than by contemplating the example and listening to the instructions of our Divine Lord and Master, in this passage. May His presence and blessing be with us, while I endeavour to direct your attention to, THE COMPASSION OF CHRIST towards perishing sinners—HIS REFLECTION on the scene before Him—and His CONSEQUENT INJUNCTION to His Disciples, with particular reference to the occasion of our present meeting!

I. The COMPASSION of our Blessed Redeemer towards the race of mankind is a subject equally interesting and wonderful. It so far exceeds all comparison with any thing merely human, that it stands unrivalled and alone. Human compassion, even of the tenderest kind, is seldom exercised at any great personal expense; and the relief which it affords is generally partial and short-lived. But the compassion of the Son of God towards mankind was of the most costly nature, and conveyed the most inestimable blessings. It induced Him to forsake the courts of heaven, to take upon Him the form of a servant, and to be made in the likeness of men. It led HIM, who was infinitely rich, for our sakes to become poor, that we through His poverty might be made rich. It led Him to submit to a life of humiliation, reproach, and suffering; and at length to become obedient unto death, even the painful and ignominious death of the Cross. To such unparalleled sacrifices did the compassion of our Redeemer lead Him! But it was for an object, the value and importance of which, even we, who are so deeply interested in it, cannot fully appreciate. It was to save sinners: it was to repair the ruins of the Fall; to reconcile man to God; to make us His Children, and Heirs of everlasting Salvation.

The divine compassion which thus animated the Son of God, in His Mediatorial undertaking, formed one of the distinguishing features in His character, and was conspicuous in all His actions.

No sooner did He enter on His Ministry, than He went about doing good; exerting His miraculous power for the relief of the temporal necessities of

His followers ; and encouraging them to confide in Him, as their Deliverer from spiritual infirmities, and the Author of immortal life and happiness. The kindness and benevolence of Christ induced Him, on more than one occasion on which a multitude was collected around Him, to feel for their bodily fatigues and privations, and to exert His divine power for their relief and sustenance. But though the greater number of those who were assembled, on the occasion mentioned in the text, might perhaps be, in this sense, faint and weary from following our Lord at a distance from their places of abode, the connection of this expression with the succeeding words, as well as the obvious meaning of the whole passage, would lead us rather to consider it as descriptive of their destitute and deplorable state, with regard to God and Religion. The image, by which this is described, frequently occurs in Scripture, and is well adapted to convey a striking impression of wretchedness and danger: it is that of a flock of sheep abandoned by their shepherd, straying far and wide in the wilderness, unable to obtain pasture or to regain the fold, and exposed to the various dangers which threaten the weak and the defenceless.

How aptly does this represent the natural condition of mankind—erring from the ways of God ; fainting, in a spiritual sense, from the want of direction and nourishment ; and a prey to ignorance and superstition, to sin and misery!

The Prophets of the Old Testament frequently describe under this image the degenerate state of the Jewish Church. My people hath been lost sheep ;—and they were scattered, because there is *no shepherd; and none did search or seek after them. Such was the sad picture which they presented, when Jesus, the Great and Good Shepherd, appeared among them! Though nominally the people of God, and the sheep of His pasture, they were the lost sheep of the House of Israel; wandering amidst various Sects, and doctrines almost equally erroneous, having none to guide or to guard them—scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

But if such were the compassion of Christ towards those to whom He came as unto His own, and such their destitute and abandoned condition, how much more powerfully was that compassion excited towards the Gentile Nations—those other sheep which were not of that fold; who were in a still more deplorable and dangerous condition; but of whom our Lord declared, Them, also, I must bring; and they shall hear my voice! And what should be our feelings concerning the countless multitudes of those Nations in our own day, who, though not immediately in our view, yet come within our knowledge; and who are equally deserving of our pity, on account of their moral and religious ignorance, their spiritual wants and weaknesses, dangers and miseries?

Who can contemplate the state of the world, as to Religion, with a Christian eye, without a more impressive conviction of the deplorable effects of the fall and corruption of man; without a deeper sense of the mysterious ways of Divine Providence; without a more lively feeling of compassion for his fellow-creatures? To say nothing of the merely nominal and external profession of thousands who call themselves Christians, and of the error and superstition which darken and debase the greater part of Christendom, with what emotions of sorrow and pity must not a real Christian regard the myriads which inhabit the vast regions of Asia and Africa! Look at the hundred millions of our fellow-subjects who cultivate the fertile plains of India—at the three hundred millions who people the immense Empire of China—at the multitudes of Sable Tribes which are scattered over the Peninsula of Africa! Consider the moral and religious condition of this innumerable assemblage of human beings. Paganism, in some or other of its varying, but equally ignorant, degrading, and immoral superstitions; and Mohammedism, with its imposture, its bigotry, its earthly views, and sensual Paradise; nearly divide this almost boundless spiritual empire. These are the dark and disgusting forms which have tyrannized over countless generations of rational and immortal beings; and, under their baneful influence, what have been the fruits which they have produced?—just what St. Paul has described, in his gloomy but too faithful picture of the Gentile World, in his Epistle to the Romans—senseless idolatry, disgraceful superstition, gross and unnatural vices, cruelty, dishonesty, malice, revenge, hatred, wickedness, and all unrighteousness. Such was, and is, and ever will be, human nature, when left to the darkness—or to the light, as it has been sometimes called—of its own unaided reason, and to its own devices and desires; or when under the guidance of a false and worldly religion. Are not these unhappy multitudes, then, my Brethren, far more even than those to whom the text refers—faint, and scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd?

* Jer. l. 7. Ezek. xxxiv. 5, 6.

The anxious but fruitless inquiries, and the various and painful austerities, to which numbers, more especially in India, have recourse, in order to appease their false divinities, and to ensure their future happiness, forcibly illustrate this affecting image. Like the faint and wandering flock, THEY too have, comparatively, none to guide their feet into the way of peace; none to feed them with knowledge and understanding; to defend them from that roaring lion, who devours them at his pleasure; to care for, and to save their souls. Without venturing to pronounce any positive judgment as to the state of those who are unavoidably ignorant of the Gospel, with reference to a future world, there is more than enough in the declarations of Scripture to awaken our pity and concern for their present and eternal interests. If the Son of Man came, as He assures us, to seek and to save that which was lost, and applied that alarming description even to the Jewish people—if St. Paul reminded the Ephesians, that, before their conversion to Christianity, they were dead in trespasses and sins; that they had no hope, and were without God in the world—if no man cometh unto the Father but by Jesus Christ; and if there is no other Name under heaven given amongst men, whereby we must be saved—can we, if we believe these declarations, and partake of the Spirit of our Divine Lord and Master, contemplate the multitudes who are at this day in similar and even more aggravated circumstances of moral degradation and religious ignorance, of temporal misery and everlasting peril, without the tenderest sympathy and compassion?

II. Such were the feelings of our Blessed Redeemer: and His REFLECTION upon the scene which awakened them was, like all His reflections, of a benevolent, a devout, and a practical nature.—The harvest truly is plenteous! So great were the numbers that followed Him, and such was the disposition which appeared in many of them to hear His Word, that they seemed like rich and luxuriant fields of corn, ready for the hand of the reaper—as a people prepared for the Lord. Similar to this was the observation of Christ to His Disciples, when the Samaritans of Sychar came out to see and hear Him:—Lift up your eyes, and look upon the fields! for they are white already to harvest. Possibly our Lord might, in the words before us, look forward to the multitudes, both of Jews and Gentiles, whom He foresaw flocking to His Church, and seeking His salvation. And though, in the present day, the state of the Gentiles may not GENERALLY appear to be so favourable and prepared; yet their NUMBERS, as we have already seen, are immensely great; and, in some instances, their dispositions seem highly encouraging. Who can peruse the interesting reports of Missionaries, and of those who have visited them in different quarters of the world, without perceiving striking indications of an earnest and increasing desire, on the part of the Heathen, to listen to their instructions, and of a more abundant blessing on their labours. But the command of our Saviour to His Apostles was unlimited—Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature: nor ought his disciples, in any age, to be contented without at least attempting to fulfil that extensive commission. The harvest truly is plenteous—more especially in the vast Eastern field of our labours! nor do we know, until we have made the experiment, whether the multitudes which abound in Gentile Nations may not be, in some measure, ready to receive our Missions. In general, it has been found, and the experience of the Church Missionary Society fully attests the truth of the assertion, that some are everywhere prepared to welcome the Gospel, and to bless the Messengers of Peace and Salvation.

But the Labourers are few.—Such was the complaint of our Lord Himself, when He was on the point of ordaining and sending forth His Apostles upon their first commission. When, after his Ascension, the Lord gave the Word, great was the company of the Preachers. And how faithfully and zealously they laboured in the Spiritual Harvest, is evident, from the traces of their footsteps in almost every region of the Old World. Since that early period of the Church—with some splendid exceptions of pious and charitable exertion, to which the North of Europe owes its conversion from Barbarism and Idolatry to the Faith of the Gospel—though the Nominal Labourers have been numerous in every age, they have too often resembled the slothful and worldly Teachers who were the objects of our Saviour's reproofs when He was upon earth. For many centuries, the Church of Christ, corrupted and paralysed by Superstition and Ignorance, appeared to be insensible to the obligation of promoting Christianity among the Heathen : nor did the state of the world afford much opportunity for such a work. But, when the Reformation had restored the purity of Christian Doctrine, and the progress of maritime discovery had opened New Worlds, in the East and in the West, as a boundless field for Christian Benevolence, the zeal of the Church of Rome led her to pour forth crowds of Labourers, more especially into the Eastern Harvest ; who, though, for the most part, actuated by a spirit of blind devotion to the Papal See, must be allowed to have rendered some important services to the Christian Cause ; while many of her Missionaries, like the celebrated Francis Xavier, appear, however erroneously, to have laboured with almost unexampled diligence and fervour.

The Protestant Nations have done comparatively little in this sacred work : yet what they HAVE undertaken, whether in India, Africa, or America, has been attempted upon the soundest principles, and from the purest and most disinterested motives. The Venerable Societies for Promoting Christian Knowledge, and for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, have done great and good service in this important Cause : and, within the last thirty years, the Church Missionary Society, in support of which I have undertaken to exhort you, has been most zealously and extensively engaged, in communicating the blessings of the Gospel, in Pagan and Mahomedan Countries. Yet, after all which has been attempted in India and in Africa, the Labourers in this vast harvest are but few—here and there one, like spots of verdure and fertility in a boundless desert, amidst thousands, nay millions, who, to use the pointed expression of the Prophet, are perishing for lack of knowledge: while the faint and scattered multitudes themselves, and the little band of Labourers among them, may continually be heard to implore us, in the language of the man of Macedonia of old, Come over, and help us! Some, too, of them, alas! who could ill be spared—like Ziegenbalg, at the commencement of the Protestant Mission to India; like Martyn, at a later period; and the lamented Bishop Heber—have been prematurely, as we cannot but feel it, snatched from their exalted work upon earth, to their eternal reward in heaven.

III. Can we, in such a view of this interesting subject, help recurring to the INJUNCTION of Christ to His Disciples—Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the Harvest, that he will send forth Labourers into His harvest.

It is a mysterious appointment of Divine Providence, though analogous to what may be observed as to inferior subjects, that in a concern of infinite magnitude and importance, like the salvation of the soul, men should be dependent upon the charity of one another.

It might at first view be thought, that He who feels such compassion towards His erring, sinful creatures, would Himself not only freely provide, but spontaneously and universally apply the remedy. We know, however, that it is not thus that the Almighty acts with respect to many of the most important benefits which He confers; that He does not directly and indiscriminately bestow them; but prospers the faithful employment of means, of which He is the original Author, and the success of which ultimately depends upon His blessing. Thus it is with respect to the diffusion of Religious Knowledge: and we may perceive some very wise and satisfactory reasons for this arrangement. It would seem natural to expect, that those who are personally interested in so great a blessing as a Revelation from Heaven would feel the most powerful motive to communicate it to their fellow-creatures. The very endeavour to diffuse the knowledge of a Saviour, like every other effort of benevolence, is conducive to the best interests of those who sincerely engage in it, and meets a corresponding reward; and while the Heavenly Treasure is entrusted to earthen vessels, and the Ministry of Reconciliation is committed to men of like passions with others, and is thus exercised in the manner best adapted to ensure its reception, the excellency of the power is evidently seen to be of God, and not of men; and the glory of success is secured to Him, to whom alone it is due. The fact of the existence of such a system of mutual dependence is, at all events, a powerful call to every one of us, to consider how far we are fulfilling the solemn obligations which it plainly imposes upon us.

Every good and every perfect gift is from above; and PRAYER, sincere and fervent prayer, is the appointed means of obtaining it. More especially is this true with respect to all that concerns the advancement of the Redeemer's Kingdom. Men must be the instruments of promoting it: but they must be men of a peculiar character; formed, prepared, and qualified for the work, by the great Lord of the Harvest : and for this, as for every other spiritual blessing, I will be inquired of, saith the Lord. It is worthy of our particular observation, that at the close of the day previous to that on which Jesus sent forth His twelve Apostles, He went up into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God. We find, also, that whether in the choice of fresh Labourers, or in sending them forth to the appointed sphere of their Ministry, the primitive Disciples were instant in prayer, for the divine direction and blessing. How much more earnestly ought we to pray for the increase of faithful Labourers, who live in this distant age, and amidst circumstances which call for peculiarly holy and fervent importunity for this blessing !

To the Lord of the Harvest, therefore—to the great Husbandman ; to Christ Himself, the Lord and Head of His Church ; and to that Divine Spirit, who once said to the Disciples of old, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them—it is one of our highest duties, as Christians, to look up, by earnest and persevering prayer, that He would have compassion upon all JEWS, TURKS, and INFIDELS—that He would dispose the hearts of all the members of His Church to pity the destitute and perilous condition of the multitudes who are now in darkness and the shadow of death—that He would prepare many for going forth to preach the Gospel in distant lands — that He would endue them with tender concern for immortal souls, and with ardent zeal for their salvation, and the extension of Christ's Kingdom—that He would bestow upon them the various gifts and graces so eminently required for the successful discharge of their high and holy calling; and send them forth in the Spirit, and in dependence on the assistance and blessing of their Risen and Ascended Lord, to work in His Vineyard, to labour in His Harvest.

Do we ask for examples of Labourers whom the great Lord of the Harvest will approve and bless? —a most important question, both to those who aspire to so high and holy an office, and to those who undertake the responsibility of appointing them to the work. Such was pre-eminently the Son of God Himself. HE laboured in the Spiritual Harvest; and in divine wisdom and knowledge, in supreme love to God, and entire dedication to His service, in the adaptation of His instructions to the capacities and circumstances of His hearers, in condescension and meekness, in patience, compassion, and love, where can we expect to find so pure and perfect a model? Such was the Great Apostle of the Gentiles, specially sent forth to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God; who, by pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned, by the word of Truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness, on the right hand and on the left, closely followed His heavenly Master's steps; and who, as he was in labours more abundant, and in trials more frequent, was signally blessed and honoured in fully and successfully preaching the Gospel of Christ.

Such was, in later times, the pious and learned Ziegenbalg, the founder of the Danish Mission at Tranquebar; which, though now, by a series of painful events, reduced to a very low and decaying condition, was, for more than a century, the source and centre of Evangelical Light on the coast of Coromandel. Such, above all, was the venerable Schwartz, whose praise is in all the Churches, both of Europe and Asia; who, in simplicity and purity both of character and conduct, in holy energy, in disinterested superiority to every worldly motive, in unwearied diligence, in Christian humility, kindness, and charity, was truly Apostolic; and of whom, I will here only add, in the words of the late learned and pious Bishop James of Calcutta*—"Let us have another Schwartz, in temper, in manner, in judgment, and in Christian feeling; and I fear not to say, that, under the blessing of God, we may look for a Schwartz's success." For such Labourers as these we should continually and fervently implore the Great Lord of the Harvest: nor should those who know and love the Salvation of God, and earnestly desire the enlargement of His Church, hold their peace, or give Him rest, until the wilderness and the solitary places, both of the East and of the West, be glad for them; and the desert rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

But, since it pleases God to employ men as the instruments of His mercy in communicating the revelation of His will, if it be our duty to pray that He would send forth Labourers into His Harvest, it must be equally our duty to adopt ALL OTHER MEANS in our power for the accomplishment of the same great object—to promote it, by our counsels, our patronage, and our contributions. And it is to this that I would now beg to exhort you, by a review of this momentous subject.

IV. That it should ever have been made a question, 'Whether it be the duty of Christians to attempt the Conversion of Heathen Nations,' can scarcely be accounted for, but upon the supposition, that those who object to it either do not understand, or do not feel, the infinite value of the Gospel.

Whoever considers it, as it is in truth, the best gift of God to mankind, and is personally acquainted with its unspeakable excellence ; who has tasted of its mercy, and felt its purifying, healing, and animating power ; who has been guided by its unerring wisdom, supported by its heavenly promises, and cheered by its immortal hopes ; cannot for a moment doubt his obligations to diffuse far and wide, to his utmost ability, that which he accounts his richest treasure—the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord. Happy is it FOR US, my Brethren—whose ancestors, like other Gentiles, worshipped dumb Idols, which could not profit them—that there were those who felt the powerful influence of the love of Christ, and, pitying their destitute and miserable condition, came and preached peace to them who were afar off, and kindled that blessed Light in the midst of us, which now shines with such unparalleled lustre ! Can we, then, hesitate freely to IMPART that inestimable blessing which we have ourselves freely received ? Can we selfishly resolve, to fare sumptuously ourselves, and refuse to bestow out of our abundance any portion of that Bread of Life, for want of which multitudes of our fellow-creatures are fainting and perishing around us?

Contrast, I entreat you, for a moment, your own favoured condition, as men and as Christians, with that dark and dreary state to which the Heathen World is condemned. Think of YOUR multiplied privileges and blessings, and of THEIR privations and miseries. You are early taught your high destiny, as immortal creatures; and are instructed by the Gospel how the happiness of that being may be secured: but THEY are equally destitute of the means of grace and of the hope of glory. The Religion which you profess enjoins and cherishes all the charities of social and domestic life, and encircles you with a thousand pleasures and endearments which delight and cheer you in your passage to a better world. The WRETCHED IDOLATER is compelled, under the influence of a cruel and relentless superstition, to stifle the tenderest feelings of nature; and to look with apathy, and even with complacency, on the sufferings or abandonment of those most nearly connected with him. There is not a relation or a circumstance of life, in which you can be placed, which does not remind you of your obligations to that blessed Religion which provides the wisdom, the strength, or the consolation which it may require; while the ignorant and benighted Heathen is little elevated, as to spiritual and moral feelings, above the brutes which perish. His pleasures are low and sensual, and his affections earthly and grovelling. In affliction, he has no comforter; in death, no hope; beyond the grave, no prospect. HE, in short, appears like the outcast of earth and of heaven : while you, if you are real Christians, possess that which has the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. I ask, then, my Brethren, will you not make some effort to communicate, from the full store of your own blessings, that which, without impoverishing yourselves, may make them rich indeed ? Will you not contribute your endeavours towards imparting to them the unsearchable riches of Christ ?

It may possibly be objected, that even in our own highly-favoured Country there are but too many whose moral and religious condition is almost as deplorable as that of Pagans or Mahommedans, and who are therefore even more justly entitled to our compassion. This must undoubtedly be admitted : but in Christianity there are no opposing or incompatible duties. Our first obligation is, certainly, to provide for our own household ; and to be anxious, that all with whom we are most intimately connected should be supplied with the means of grace and salvation. But though Charity ought in every case thus to BEGIN at home, is it either reasonable or Christian that it should END there ? Surely those who either entirely discountenance and oppose, or coldly regard, every attempt to spread the knowledge of the Gospel in unenlightened Nations, forget some of the first principles of the Religion which they profess—those, which command us to love our neighbour as ourselves ; to do to others as we would that they should do unto us ; to do good unto ALL men, as we have opportunity ; and, like the good Samaritan, to esteem every man who stands in need of our assistance as having a claim upon it. It is, moreover, evident, that those who are most zealous in the propagation of Religion

ABROAD are at the same time the most active in promoting it at HOME: and that one of the most effectual methods of cherishing and increasing personal and domestic piety, is, to cultivate enlarged views of duty and benevolence; to look not merely on our own things, but on the things of others; and to encourage, according to our ability, every undertaking which appears calculated to glorify God, and to promote the present and eternal happiness of mankind.

But it is urged by some, that, in attempting to convert the Heathen, we have but LITTLE PROSPECT OF SUCCESS. They regard us as well-meaning Visionaries, whose intentions are better than our judgment, and whose hopes are more sanguine than experience has hitherto warranted. We are, however, by no means disposed to accept this tribute to our benevolence at the expense of our understandings. For what, I would ask, can be called strictly wise and rational, if it be not to co-operate with God Himself, by His own prescribed and appointed means, in promoting a plan, which occupied the Councils of Eternity; which strung the harp of Prophecy; which is the theme of all the Promises; for the accomplishment of which the Son of God descended from His throne in heaven to be a sojourner upon earth, and the promulgation of which in all Nations was the subject of His last command; to the gradual progress of which the rise and fall of Empires have hitherto been, and ever will be, subservient; for the propagation of which the world itself is continued and upheld; and the consummation of which will issue in the final and everlasting happiness of myriads of the human race!

The work is undoubtedly a great and arduous one: but what are the obstacles which oppose our success, in endeavouring to convert the Natives of India and Africa, which might not equally have deterred those pious and compassionate men who preached the Gospel to our Heathen and uncivilized forefathers? We are equally assured IN OUR DAY, as at any former period, of those gracious and effectual influences from above, without which even Paul and Apollos might have planted and watered in vain. The weapons of our warfare, like theirs, are not carnal, but mighty, through God, to the demolition of the strong-holds of Sin and Satan, now, as when the Apostle thus triumphed over them. Lo! I am with you alway—said our ascending Redeemer, when giving His last charge to His Disciples—even unto the end of the world. Never should it be forgotten, that it is the LORD'S Harvest into which we are to entreat Him to send forth Labourers; that the very terms of His injunction imply a prospect, and even a promise, of success; and that HIS BLESSING is sufficient to prosper the feeblest Labourer in His harvest.

In exhorting you, however, to contribute to the support of the Church Missionary Society, there is the most satisfactory ground for encouragement and hope, with respect more particularly to that large portion of the Eastern World which the Providence of God has subjected to the British Dominions. A vast and submissive population of Pagans and Mahommedans, accustomed to our government, and in general sensible of its value, seem to be EXPECTING, and in many instances to be DESIRING, the communication of Moral and Religious Knowledge. "Never," as it has been justly observed, "was any people entrusted with such power of doing good as England now is."* The Supreme Government in India seems well disposed to avail itself of this privilege, whenever it is deemed practicable;—a gratifying proof of which, as well as of the lessening prejudices of the Natives, and of the increasing diffusion of Christian knowledge and Christian feeling, has been lately given, by the long-wished-for Abolition† of the inhuman sacrifice of Hindoo Widows on the funeral pile of their deceased Husbands; a measure which calls for the thankful acknowledgments of every friend to Christianity in India. Our Apostolical Church is fully established in India; and the character and labours of her first three distinguished and lamented Prelates have not only tended to raise the standard of Religion among Europeans, but to excite a degree of attention to Christianity, on the part of the Natives, which cannot but facilitate its gradual diffusion among them. It is remarkable, that many of the wealthier Hindoos have of late voluntarily come forward to support Schools for the Education of Native Children, in which the New Testament is read; and that the instruction of FEMALE Children, which has long been carried on by the Missionaries near Madras, is rapidly extending in Bengal, and other parts of India. Of the numerous Missions and Schools supported by the Society in behalf of which we are assembled, I will not detain you by any minute account;

because they are already known to most of those whom I am addressing; while others may become better acquainted with their merits by a reference to the Reports of the Society. I will only observe, that the late Bishop Heber—than whom no one could be better qualified to form a correct judgment on this important subject, in that most valuable and painfully interesting Memoir of his “Last Days” lately published by the Archdeacon of Madras—is represented as bearing frequent and most honourable testimony* to the Christian character and beneficial labours of the Church Missionaries. The same enlightened and deeply-to-be-regretted Friend to the Missionary Cause repeatedly expressed his deliberate conviction, that no limits can be assigned to the usefulness of Missions and Schools in India, except those which arise from the want of adequate means of support. The Island of Ceylon, in which the Society has already several flourishing Stations, would alone afford ample employment for its labours. In that island the number of Nominal Christians is very great; and its Pagan Inhabitants have fewer prejudices from a false Theology and Philosophy than the Natives of Hindostan; nor is there any where a more promising field for Christian exertion†. Viewing all these encouraging circumstances together, may we not justly say, that, in India and Ceylon, the fields are white already to harvest? And is it too much to expect the accomplishment, in due time, of the fervent prediction of a venerable Archbishop of our Church* more than a century since, that "Christ shall at length, through the labours of British Missionaries, subdue unto Himself the whole extent of Oriental India?"

But SUCCESS is a term of various signification; and in matters of Religion we are apt to expect too much, or at least too hastily, and to be discouraged if our expectations are not realized. Yet, when we consider what Religion is, and what man is, who is to be the subject of it, we should not be surprised, if, in EVERY case, and more especially in that of Heathen Nations, its progress should be slow and gradual. The kingdom of heaven is as a grain of mustard-seed; small in its beginnings, but IN TIME spreading round a large circumference. In some instances, we are only sowing; in others, we are reaping the labours of those who have preceded us in the work: but a day is coming, when, whatever may have been our share in it, he that soweth, and he that reapeth, shall rejoice together, in the fruit which has been gathered unto life eternal. We must labour IN HOPE, and wait for the precious crop with patience. We have the sure word of Prophecy, that the Gospel shall be preached in all nations; that the knowledge of the Lord shall at length pervade the whole earth; that the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdoms of the Lord and of His Christ: and in the success with which the endeavours of this and other Christian Societies have been crowned, we may behold the earnest and pledge of far greater triumphs. But, if these sanguine expectations should not be fulfilled, if these delightful hopes should never be fully accomplished, enough has been already achieved, not only to warrant our past endeavours, and to encourage future exertions, but abundantly and everlastingly to overpay them. Let us never forget, that the salvation of one soul—and the Church-Missionary Society has been the means of saving many—ininitely outweighs all our labour in effecting it!

Success, however, after all, is not our immediate concern. It will be sufficient for us, if we have the testimony of conscience, as to this as well as every other duty, THAT WE HAVE DONE WHAT WE COULD. Happy, thrice happy shall we be, if we should hereafter receive from the Great Lord of the Harvest this delightful commendation!

Here, then, my Brethren, I will conclude. May He, whose Cause I have thus imperfectly attempted to plead, vouchsafe us His blessing! And, Oh! if there be any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, fulfil ye our joy.—Let this mind be in YOU, which was also in Christ Jesus. Like HIM, have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way. Improve, not only as your duty, but as your highest privilege and honour, the opportunity of doing something for the Glory of Christ, and the Conversion of the Heathen World. Let each individual ask himself, “What have I done in this Sacred Cause, compared with what I might and ought to have done?” And be assured, that you will NEVER REPENT of any exertion, or of any sacrifice, in the service of your Redeemer, and in promoting the salvation of souls. 'Repent,' did I say? I am persuaded, that every real Christian, like the Reformer of old, when censured for his zeal, as if he were doing TOO MUCH, will feel that his conscience condemns him for having hitherto done so LITTLE. This has been a subject of regret even to the most devoted Christian, when reflecting on his past exertions, on a death-bed, and in the prospect of an eternal world. May, then, the love of Christ constrain you to listen to the call of your perishing fellow-creatures, and to the claims which I have feebly urged in their behalf! Pray that the Lord of the Harvest would send forth Labourers into His harvest: and co-operate, to the utmost of your power, in gathering souls to Christ. He will now graciously accept this proof of your love to Him: and at the Great Harvest for Eternity, at the end of the world, He will publicly acknowledge and recompense your labour. MULTITUDES now implore your help, that they may be converted and saved. And if, as I fervently pray, you should yourselves partake of the Salvation of the Gospel, with what ineffable delight will you behold that great multitude, which no man can number, of all nations and kindreds and people and tongues, to whose conversion you in some humble measure contributed, stand before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands, and crying with a loud voice, saying, SALVATION UNTO OUR GOD, WHICH SITTETH ON THE THRONE, AND UNTO THE LAMB!—AMEN! BLESSING, AND GLORY, AND WISDOM, AND THANKSGIVING, AND HONOUR, AND POWER, AND MIGHT, BE UNTO OUR GOD FOR EVER AND EVER!

REPORT
OF THE COMMITTEE.

DELIVERED, IN SUBSTANCE, TO THE
ANNUAL MEETING,
HELD MAY 4, 1830,
AT FREEMASONS' HALL, GREAT QUEEN STREET.

REPORT,

3c 3c.

THE arrangement which the Society has recently adopted respecting its Publications enables the Committee to present the Report of the Thirtieth Year of its Proceedings in a more condensed form, and without that minuteness of detail which has hitherto been necessary.

HOME PROCEEDINGS.

DISABLED-MISSIONARIES' FUND.

The Committee have long had under consideration the means of providing for Disabled Missionaries, their Widows, and Children. This subject is one of much difficulty and serious responsibility. After mature deliberation, the Committee adopted a series of Resolutions, embodying such general principles as appeared to them applicable to the case*. In prosecution of the plan thus formed a separate Fund has been opened to provide for these affecting contingencies of Missionary Labours. The sum of 500*l*. has been granted by the Committee, to form the basis of this Fund; which it is purposed to increase, by Annual Grants, and by Voluntary Contributions from the public. Can Christians have a more deeply interesting object placed before them, than that of supplying the means of making a provision for the Widows and Orphans of those who for Christ's Name have gone forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles, and whose own health and strength have been consumed in their labours? The Committee trust that this part of their plans, which is so intimately connected with the general efficiency of the Society's operations, will be adequately supported by their friends.

COMMITTEE OF INVESTIGATION.

It was stated in the last Report, that a Committee had been appointed to revise the Expenditure of the Society; the proceedings of which had not been brought to a close at the period when the Report was delivered. The labours of that Committee were continued to the latter end of July, they having entered into a very minute examination of the whole of the Society's Expenditure, Foreign and Domestic. The Report which they made to the General Committee will be found in the Appendix*. It may, however, be proper to notice here the principal results of their proceedings.

It appeared advisable to the Investigation Committee, that the information arising out of the Society's proceedings should be brought before the Members in a separate Periodical Publication, emanating directly and officially from the Committee. This view was adopted by the General Committee, with some modification. The Monthly Paper was, in consequence, discontinued at the close of last year; and an enlarged Publication, denominated the "Church Missionary Record," substituted in its place, at the commencement of the present year; and intended to exhibit in detail, but in a digested form, the whole of the Society's Foreign and Domestic Proceedings. While, by this arrangement, a considerable annual saving will be effected, the Committee have reason to believe that it has proved generally satisfactory to the Members of the Society. In making this transition, the Committee have been solicitous to contract the circulation of the Missionary Register as little as possible, presenting as it does a large and intelligent view of the progress of Missions throughout the world, and cherishing that catholic spirit in which the Committee ever wish the friends of the Society to aid its great object. On this occasion the Committee adopted the following Resolution, expressive of the high value which they set on the services rendered to the Society by the Rev. Josiah Pratt:—

“That, while the Committee have deemed it requisite to relinquish that connection which has heretofore subsisted between the Society and the Missionary Register, they cannot refrain from recording the strong sense which they entertain of the important services rendered to the Society, by the able manner in which the matter arising out of its proceedings has been edited in that work by the Rev. Josiah Pratt; to whose labours, probably, the Society is, under God, more deeply indebted than to those of any other individual, for its present growth and prosperity.”

On examining the state of the Institution, it appeared to the Investigation Committee that some alteration might be advantageously made with a view to the improvement of the system heretofore pursued, and likewise to effect some reduction of expense. The recommendations of the Investigation Committee were adopted by the General Committee, with some modifications, arising out of a change of circumstances. At the period when the Report of the Investigation Committee was framed, it was understood that the Principal intended to retire from his situation, under the impression that the course which the Committee of Investigation had it in contemplation to recommend would be incompatible with his domestic circumstances. When, however, the new Regulations for the government of the Institution, which were framed in pursuance of the views of the Investigation Committee, were made known to the Principal, the Committee found that the changes which had been made were not to the extent which he had apprehended, or which rendered it necessary for him to relinquish his interesting and important charge. In consequence, it is intended that the house at present occupied by the Tutor, at the west end of the Institution, should be disposed of, instead of that at the east end of the building occupied by the Principal as recommended in the Investigation Committee's Report.

Impressed with the difficulties which the Society finds in providing the means of adequately sustaining its different Missions, the Principal has kindly relinquished a portion of his salary.

It being provided by the newly-established Regulations of the Institution, above referred to, that the Tutor should be resident in the Institution itself, the connection of the Rev. John Ayre with the Society will terminate at the close of the present year. The Committee desire, on this occasion, to express their sense of Mr. Ayre's valuable services, during the five years of his connection with the Society. In consequence of this change, the views of the Investigation Committee will, it is conceived, be realised, both by placing the Tutorship on a footing more advantageous to the Institution, and effecting a reduction of expense, by lowering the salary to be paid in future to the person who may occupy that situation.

The Investigation Committee having stated, in the course of their Report, that the system hitherto pursued in the Institution did not appear to them to be the best fitted to secure the most important qualifications of a Missionary, add, that for the defects of that system the Principal could not be considered responsible, he having had to administer it as marked out for him. That Committee then present, abstractedly, the following view of the principles on which they conceive it desirable that a Missionary Institution should be conducted:—

“It would, in our opinion, be preferable that the Institution should be assimilated to and put more upon the footing of a Family, the members of which have given themselves up to some great work. The Head of such an Institution should, we think, be distinct from the person employed to give instruction in the subordinate branches of human learning; and should regard the Students as his Children, maintaining with them, at all times, an unreserved and familiar intercourse. Such a community, living in the exercise of mutual love, in which the Spirit of the Great Head of the Church shall be found to dwell richly—and where, as has been emphatically expressed by Mr. Blumhardt, in speaking of the Institution at Bâle, ‘not Moses but Christ, not the Law but the Gospel, reigns’—may be expected to receive, in a peculiar manner, a blessing from the Lord, and to produce and send forth Labourers into the Vineyard fitted for their arduous duties.”

These are sentiments, the Committee are persuaded, in which not only they and the Principal, but the Members of the Society at large, cordially concur.

Deeply impressed with the important bearing of the Institution on the future operations of the Society, the Committee have framed the new Regulations with the view of placing it on the footing proposed by the Investigation Committee, and earnestly commend it to the prayers of their friends; since it is peculiarly the work of the Divine Spirit to call forth and prepare Missionaries for their work, and to render effectual their labours—to turn the Gentiles from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God; that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them that are sanctified, by faith that is in Christ.

The Regulations under which the Institution is now placed are printed in the Appendix (III.)

From circumstances which came before them, the Investigation Committee were of opinion that a saving of expense might be effected in the Local Expenditure of the Associations, without diminishing their efficiency. A Circular on the subject was therefore addressed to the Associations, which met their cordial concurrence. The adoption, by the Associations, of the suggestions contained in the Circular will, it is hoped, materially aid the funds of the Society, by reducing the aggregate amount of the expenses of management.

The mode of keeping the Society’s Accounts, both at home and abroad, received the very particular attention of the Investigation Committee. Various improvements have, at their recommendation, been adopted; which, when they fully take effect, will exhibit, the Committee anticipate, the whole of the Expenditure, with a clearness and fulness of detail, that, while it facilitates reference to all its parts, will operate as a salutary check on its undue or unauthorised increase.

On full consideration, it did not appear advisable to make the alteration in the present mode of printing the Lists of Contributors to the Associations which was suggested by the Investigation Committee.

On the recommendation of the Investigation Committee, the Assistant Secretary has been appointed one of the Secretaries of the Society.

By the VIIth Law of the Society, it is provided that "those Members of the Society shall be summoned (to the Annual Meeting) by Letter, who reside within ten miles of the Metropolis." The Investigation Committee were of opinion that this provision is no longer necessary: and as much time is employed in directing and circulating such Letters, and some expense incurred, they recommended that that provision of the VIIth Law should be repealed, in which recommendation the General Committee concurred. It is therefore now submitted to the Society, that the VIIth Law should stand as follows:—

"An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London on the First Tuesday in May, unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May; in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen."

FUNDS.

THE operations of the Society have now been carried on for thirty years. The average Income of the first ten years was about 1500*l*.; that of the second ten years, about 15,000*l*.; and that of the last ten years, about 41,000*l*. This continued growth of the Society's resources furnishes ground for much thankfulness and encouragement. The Committee, however, cannot look back on the last three years without feelings of considerable anxiety; as, in each of those years, the Expenditure has exceeded the Income. The Receipts of the last year, on account of the General Fund, amounted to 47,328*l.* 17*s.*; the Expenditure, to 48,120*l.* 5*s.* 8*d.*; leaving an excess of Expenditure, above Income, of 791*l.* 8*s.* 8*d.*

On this general statement, a few remarks are necessary.—It will be observed, that the actual amount received within the year ending March 31, 1830, on account of the General Fund, falls below that of the year ending March 31, 1829, on the same account, by 6133*l.* 14*s.* 1*d.* This sum, however, is not to be regarded as a diminution of the permanent Income of the Society; but is, to a considerable extent, to be accounted for by the arrangement for closing the Association Accounts on the 31st of December in each year, instead of the 31st of March; and which arrangement did not come fully into operation till the year 1828-9. The result was, that many remittances, which, on the old plan, would not have been received till after March 31, 1829, and would consequently have been carried to the account of the year 1829-30, were made in the months of January, February, and March 1829, and were therefore included in the Receipts of the year 1828-9: in other words, a portion of what, on the old plan, would have been the Receipts of 1829-30, were anticipated by the new plan, and were brought into the Receipts of 1828-29. What the amount was of Association Receipts thus anticipated, it is difficult to determine; but, in forming the estimate of the Receipts of the year 1829-30, it was assumed to be about 3200*l.* The Committee apprehend that this estimate approximated to the truth; as the Receipts through Associations for the year 1829-30, which had been taken at 42,000*l.*, amounted to 41,639*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.*

In the Receipts of the year 1828-9 there was also a much larger proportion than usual under the heads of "Benefactions" and "Legacies"; the amount of which, beyond the average, being deducted, would probably leave the net income of that year about 47,660*l.*; a sum not materially differing from that of the year 1829-30, as stated above. It hence appears that there is much cause for thankfulness to God for the amount contributed to the Society's Funds in the year which has just closed, especially when the general distress felt throughout the country during that period is taken into consideration.

The difficulty of the Society's situation does not therefore lie so much in a diminution of Income, as in the more rapid increase of the ratio of its Expenditure than of that of its Income. In this view of the case, indeed, the position of the Society demands serious consideration. A restraint has already been laid on the Expenditure of the Missions; notwithstanding which it still exceeds the Receipts, and the Committee have been under the necessity of further trenching on the Society's Funded Property; so that on the 31st of March last it would not, if realised, have produced 8000*l.* With an Expenditure of 48,000*l.* per annum; extensive and serious liabilities on account of Disabled Missionaries, their Widows, and Children; and constantly subject to unforeseen demands, and a fluctuating Expenditure; the Committee will be compelled to resort to the painful alternative of still further narrowing the Society's operations abroad, if means cannot be found, by which, through the blessing of God, the permanent Income of the Society may be augmented, and continue to rise in proportion to the progressively-augmenting demands of its Missions.

The sum of 604*l.* 4*s.* 5*d.* has been received, during the year, on account of the Institution Building Fund.

ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee not having obtained a second Visiting Secretary, the services of the Rev. Messrs. Mayor and Ward have been engaged to assist the Rev. F. Leicester in visiting the Associations during the present year. The Rev. John Hartley has also undertaken to give a considerable portion of the ensuing summer to the same object.

APPOINTMENT OF A LAY AGENT.

The Committee have long been convinced of the importance of making known more widely the object and claims of the Society in places which, either from the full occupation of the time of its Deputation or from other circumstances, it has been impracticable to visit in former years. They have therefore engaged the services of Mr. George Courtnay Greenway, as a Lay Agent for the Society; in the expectation that this measure will, under the Divine Blessing, be the means of increasing its funds, by the formation of new Associations in aid of its objects, and, where the Society's local friends think it can be done with advantage, by systematically organizing the Associations which have been already formed.

NEW ASSOCIATIONS.

During the year, 21 New Associations or Branches have been formed, in various parts of the kingdom.

MISSIONARIES AND STUDENTS.

IN the course of the past year, the Society has had to deplore the loss of the services of several of its Labourers, by death and other causes. On the other hand, it is matter of thankfulness to Almighty God that the Committee have been enabled to send forth, to the various Missions, Sixteen Individuals, beside the return of Five others to their former scenes of labour. Nineteen Candidates for the Missionary Work were received during the year; three of whom have already proceeded to the Stations assigned to them.

DECEASE OR RETURN OF MISSIONARIES.

The Great Head of the Church has, in His infinite wisdom, seen it good to remove from their labours in His Cause, four of His faithful Servants. A serious loss was sustained by the death of the Rev. John Kindlinger, Missionary at Pulicat; which event took place at Madras, on the 14th of February of last year: the character of this valuable man was given in an Obituary published in the Missionary Register for July last. Mrs. Wilhelm, the Wife of the Society's Senior Missionary in Sierra Leone, was, after sixteen years unwearied toil in the Mission, called to her rest on the 28th of April 1829. On the 12th of June, the Rev. Charles Friend, of Chunar—of whom a Memoir is given in the Church Missionary Record for February last—was arrested in his Missionary career by death, almost as soon as he had entered on it. And on the 23d of the same month, Mrs. Jowett, the Wife of the Society's Representative in the Mediterranean, was called to enter into the joy of her Lord. A Memoir and Obituary of Mrs. Jowett, compiled by her Husband, appeared in the Missionary Register of August last.

The Rev. G. W. E. Metzger and Mrs. Metzger, of the West-Africa Mission, visited England in the beginning of last year: they have since resumed their labours. On the 15th of October, the Rev. John Hartley arrived in London from Greece, on a visit, with the concurrence of the Committee. Dr. Klugé, who assisted the Missionaries at Cairo in the education of Youth, has returned to Europe; and his connection with the Society is, for the present, discontinued. From North India, two Missionaries have returned home:—the Rev. Thomas Morris, compelled by the declining state of his health, left Calcutta, with his Wife and Child, on the 17th of January 1829, and landed at Plymouth on the 11th of May: and the Rev. John Latham has also, from indisposition, relinquished his Station at Calcutta, and has recently returned to this country, with Mrs. Latham. Mr. Morris's health has been found so seriously impaired by his residence in India, that there is no prospect of his being able to resume his labours in that country. The Rev. William Sawyer arrived in England, from Madras, on the 15th of May 1829: he has since dissolved his connection with the Society, having accepted a Chaplaincy under the East-India Company. Mr. and Mrs. Lisk have returned from New South Wales; Mrs. Lisk's health not allowing her to proceed to New Zealand: they also are no longer connected with the Society. In the North-West-America Mission, Mr. William Garrioch has, in consequence of indisposition, resigned the situation of Schoolmaster at Red River.

The Rev. John Andrew Jetter, the Rev. John Adlington, the Rev. Robert Mayor, and the Rev. Benjamin Ward, with their respective Families, and Mrs. Wilkinson, still remain in this country.

DEPARTURES AND ARRIVALS OF MISSIONARIES.

Various Labourers have proceeded to the respective Missions of the Society, since the last Report: and others, whose departures were therein noticed, have reached their destinations; as follows:—

West-Africa Mission—The Rev. John Murrell, Mr. Henry Graham and Mrs. Graham, and Mr. John Warburton, sailed from Gravesend on the 12th of October, and arrived at Sierra Leone on the 7th of December. The Rev. G. W. E. Metzger and his Wife, and the Rev. John Raban, embarked, on their return to the Colony, on Nov. 22d; accompanied by Miss Sessing, and the three African Youths who had been for some time under Mr. Raban's tuition in this country: they landed at Freetown, January the 2d.

Mediterranean Mission—Mr. J. M. Weiss, the Printer, arrived at Malta, from Bâsle, with his Family, on the 1st of July 1829: and on the 16th of September, the Rev. W. Jowett left London to return to Malta, where he arrived on the 1st of November.

North-India Mission—The Rev. Timothy Sandys and Mrs. Sandys sailed for Calcutta on the 1st of January, in the "Sir Thomas Munro," Captain Gillies.

South-India Mission—Mr. Alfred B. Duckham, a Printer, sailed for Madras, in the "Cæsar," Captain Watt, on the 19th of November. The Rev. Charles Blackman and Mrs. Blackman embarked for the same place on the 21st of January, on board the "Duke of Roxburgh," Captain Browne; and the Rev. Joseph Marsh sailed, in the "Lord William Bentinck," Captain Hutchinson, for the same destination, on the 28th of April. The Rev. J. B. Morewood landed at Madras, Feb. 14, 1829.

Western-India Mission—The Rev. Messrs. Dixon and Farrar, with Mrs. Farrar, arrived at Bombay, July the 17th.

Australasia Mission—The Rev. A. N. Brown and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, and Mrs. Hart, arrived at Sydney, Oct. 10th. Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and Mrs. Hart, were to proceed immediately to New Zealand: Mr. and Mrs. Brown having to wait for another conveyance.—Mr. Thomas Chapman and his Wife sailed for New South Wales, Jan. 18th, on board the “Arab,” Captain Ferriers.

West-Indies Mission—Mr. William Stearn and his Wife embarked at Gravesend on the 22d of October, for Jamaica; where they safely arrived on the 1st of January.

North-West America Mission—The Rev. David Jones embarked, on his return to his labours, with Mrs. Jones, on the 6th of June; and landed at York Fort, Aug. 12th.

The Instructions of the Committee to the Rev. Joseph Marsh are printed in the Appendix (IV.)

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

The Lord Bishop of London has admitted three of the Society's Students—Messrs. J. A. Jetter, W. Nicholls, and W. Smith, to Deacon's Orders: and three others—the Rev. Messrs. John Murrell, Charles Blackman, and Timothy Sandys—have been ordained Priests.

INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON.

There were in the Society's Institution at Islington, at the time of the last Anniversary, Fifteen Students: in the course of the year, Nineteen Candidates have been received. Nine have quitted the Institution for their respective scenes of labour; Two have withdrawn from the Society; and Twenty-three remain under preparation, or on probation.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

THE Committee are thankful to that Gracious Father who enables them, this year, to present a more encouraging account of this Mission, than for some years past. Excepting the late Mrs. Wilhelm, the Missionaries in general have been preserved in health, even in the midst of a malignant fever which prevailed in parts of the Colony.

The Rev. David Morgan has, through the intervention of the Committee, been appointed to the Chaplaincy of Sierra Leone. Mr. Morgan is heartily desirous of promoting the Society's objects; and thus assists its work in the Colony.

The three African Youths who were in the Seminary at Brixham returned with Mr. Raban, as stated above; and two of them are placed in the Institution at Fourah Bay.

The Rev. W. K. Betts is appointed to the charge of Regent and Gloucester: he will reside at Regent. The Rev. John Raban, and Mr. Henry Graham, will take up their residence at Gloucester, and render assistance in the performance of Religious Services, and in conducting the School; though Mr. Betts will be considered as the Minister of that Settlement. The Rev. G. W. E. Metzger is placed in charge of Wellington, with Mr. John Warburton as his Assistant; and a Day School will be opened there, as soon as the necessary accommodation for that object shall have been found. The Rev. John Murrell is charged with the Ministerial Duties of Kiskey; and the Rev. T. Davey will continue in charge of Bathurst and Charlotte.

A Report of the Mission for the year 1829 has been received from the Missionaries: it is written with much Christian wisdom and experience. On the present state of the Mission, the sentiments of the Missionaries are thus given:—

We see ourselves placed, as Ministers and Teachers of Christ's Holy Religion, and Agents in the extension of general knowledge, among a people who have, not many years back, arrived in this Colony in a state of blind Paganism; among whom we constantly meet with proofs of their adherence to Heathenish Superstitions, and who, notwithstanding, are so influenced by their dependence on a Christian Government, by the manifest superiority of the European Mind, and their consequent readiness to conform to our manners, that they are generally willing to have the Form of Christianity thrown over them, if they can obtain that without compliance with its Spiritual Requirements. The explicit countenance formerly given by the Colonial Government to Missionary Exertions, and the long-continued connection between the Magisterial and the Ministerial Characters, introduced, in early times, an outward observance of the Lord's Day, which even now, when the causes have in a measure ceased to exist, gives* to it the appearance of a sacred season.

The following judicious remarks are made on the Native Character :—

On comparing the Population of the Settlements under our Religious Charge with the attendance at Public Worship, we perceive that about one fourth of the inhabitants are in the habit of attending Divine Service on Sundays. We may fairly presume that all these are ready to assume the Christian Name ; and will desire to be sworn on the Holy Scriptures, if they have to take an oath in any Court of Justice. But even the proportion stated would, no doubt, be much increased, if we would lower our standard of requirements in those whom we admit to the Church. The fact is, that the Idolatrous Superstition of the African Tribes has in it so little that is fixed and exclusive, that it will comport itself with, or even give way to, any new Superstition or outward Rite that may be plausibly offered. We are, indeed, strongly inclined to believe that the whole of the Heathen Population of the Colony would press to the Baptismal Font, if we would receive them there on an understanding that Baptism is of all Greegrees the best.

This, however, being only a conjecture thrown out, we do not mean to attach to it so much importance as to the following remark, which has suggested itself to us from experience. In our endeavours to convey to the inquirers (who are still pretty numerous) right notions of the Religion which they profess themselves anxious to embrace, and in our Addresses to the Congregations generally, we have found them very susceptible of an excitement of feeling, leading even to considerable agitation of the frame. A mode of preaching calculated to produce such effects seems to be greatly liked by them, and much preferred to an appeal to their understandings. We would also wish to become all things to all men ; but we apprehend that a sound work of conversion is not in any case dependent upon such excitement ; whereas there exists considerable danger of an individual's mistaking the vehemence of bodily agitation for an evidence of the inward grace being wrought. Such a mistake seems to prevent the subject of those excitements from seeking after clear views of Gospel Doctrine and Evangelical requirement : and though we would not say that without clear views on these matters the individual cannot be the subject of Gospel Salvation, yet we are convinced that his Christian Character rests upon an insecure foundation.

On that peculiarly important point, the raising up of Native Teachers, the Missionaries remark—

We cannot but express our deep concern at the numerous disappointments which we and our predecessors have met with, in our expectations of raising efficient Native Assistants to the Mission. The work of Religious Instruction of the Adults, therefore, devolves chiefly upon the European Servants of the Society: that work presents itself to us as one of far greater difficulty than it has generally been considered, requiring an intimate acquaintance with the people, and much discrimination of character.

After entering at some length into those difficulties, which have here, as they have in other places, impeded the progress of the Kingdom of Christ, and which arise from the corruption of the heart and the ceaseless activity of the Great Enemy of man, the Missionaries proceed:—

We feel that this account of the state of the people to whom we are sent differs considerably from the general opinion of our friends in Europe; and will, perhaps, grieve some, to whose eyes it will come. We have thought it our duty to give a plain tale; being convinced that the prayers of our Christian Brethren on our behalf will be the more effectual, the more fully they are informed of the real state of things. And we would not have them believe that we lose sight of, or undervalue, the good that has really been done. We have before alluded to the little flock which the Good Shepherd has sought—here a sheep, and there one, out of the various Tribes of Africa—and brought back into His fold: they are a witness to the labours of the Society's Missionaries in this Colony; they are a comfort and support, under many trials, to us now serving in this part of God's Vineyard; and will, we doubt not, prove a crown of rejoicing to some now resting from their labours, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ, at His coming to make up His jewels. This Mission has been established only about fourteen years. In consequence of illnesses and deaths, it has had to contend with numerous interruptions to the measures which were from time to time put in progress: the many changes in the Agents for carrying on the work have hitherto rendered it impracticable for them to come to any thing like a uniform plan of proceeding: the insufficiency of their number for the work before them has, up to this time, prevented them from assisting each other, frequently, with help in seasons of difficulty, and with advice in matters of perplexity:—let all this be well weighed; and let it be taken into consideration, lastly, that they have been men frail and fallible; and the charitable Christian will wonder that so much good has been done, rather than feel surprised that no more should have been effected.

At the different Stations in the Colony, there were, on the 31st of December last, 746 Communicants.

Under instruction in the Schools, there were 923 Boys, 733 Girls, and 70 Adults; making a Total (exclusive of the Eight Seminarists) of 1726. This Total includes 470 Scholars, of combined Day and Infant Schools, at Bathurst, Regent, and Gloucester; and of Sunday Schools, at Bathurst, Gloucester, and Kissey.

Christian Institution.

Mr. Haensel continues to instruct the Youths in the Christian Institution, to the entire satisfaction of the Committee. There are Eight Youths under his charge, whose general conduct gives him satisfaction.

Liberated African Children.

The Colonial Government, in July last, committed the care of the Liberated African Children to the Missionaries, in those Villages where Schools had been established by the Society. This arrangement has enlarged the direct influence of the Mission in the work of Education.

The Native Dialects.

Messrs. Raban and Graham have been especially directed to apply themselves to forming Vocabularies of the Dialects of the different Tribes of Natives congregated within the Colony, with a view to the preparation of Grammars, Dictionaries, and other books in those Dialects.

Slave Trade.

There is reason to fear that the iniquitous Slave Trade, with all its horrors, still prevails, to a fearful extent. The prayers and efforts of every friend of humanity, and especially of all those whose character and station enable them to influence the public mind, are as much required as ever, that this terrible scourge, which has been so long inflicted by those who bear the Christian Name, may at length cease to ravage and desolate this afflicted land.

General Remarks.

The state of the Colony is such as to call forth anxious expectation and enlarged hope. In it there are gathered together, through the providence of God overruling the cupidity and wickedness of man, materials by which, in various ways, if the Spirit of the Lord be poured out, the Gospel of Christ may sound throughout a great portion of Africa. This is an object of the noblest Christian Benevolence. Let the Church of Sierra Leone shine with primitive brightness, and its light shall attract the regard of surrounding Tribes far and near. Let the Languages which the Representatives of those Tribes now speak in the Colony be fixed and reduced to writing, and the Gospel be translated into them, and we have a lever by which, with the Divine Blessing, Africa may be raised from her degradation. Let those Representatives be chosen vessels of the Lord to bear His Name among their countrymen, and Native Missionaries may hence go forth to their own people, habituated to the climate, fully possessed of their language, acquainted with their customs, and able to address them; not in the repulsive form and garb of a Foreigner, but with the attractive force of a Fellow-countryman, appealing to all the mind and all the feelings of a Native.

For accomplishing this, and far more than this, the Mission needs only those showers of Heavenly Grace, which matured the Primitive Church, and made the desert to rejoice, and blossom as the rose. This blessing, however, cannot be looked for, but in the diligent use of the means of God's appointment. May the present state of things, then, stir up the Christian Church to the yet more believing and constant use of all such means!—and we may confidently expect that those anticipations will be fully realized.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

THIS Mission has been one of considerable interest during the past year; not merely from political movements, but from that, to which all political movements shall ultimately prove subservient—the progress of the Kingdom of Christ.

Malta.

In Malta, the PRESS has been effectively at work, in the printing of small Works calculated to promote the Instruction of Youth and to diffuse Religious Truth. Books of Education, Portions of the Scriptures, Catechisms, Religious Tracts, and smaller books of Religion, have been translated, printed, and put into wide circulation.

The Committee feel called upon to render hearty thanks to God for the indefatigable and judicious labours of the Rev. William Jowett; whose Addresses and Sermons, last year, instructed and animated so many of the friends of the Society in this country; whose heavy domestic afflictions have called for our tenderest sympathy; and to whose experienced superintendence this Mission is, under God, so much indebted.

Greece & Asia Minor.

The Committee are happy to have with them, on the present occasion, their valued Missionary, the Rev. John Hartley; who has, at their suggestion, revisited his native country. The Journals of his Proceedings have often gratified the friends of the Society; and both at Constantinople and Smyrna, and in Greece, much fruit has resulted from his labours. The Committee regard with special thankfulness the opportunities which have been afforded to Mr. Hartley for the public preaching of the Gospel, and the energy with which he has availed himself of them. The Scriptures are now publicly read in the two principal Schools of the Greeks and Armenians at Smyrna; at which place three Roman Catholics, several Greeks, and some Armenians, appear to have received religious benefit from Mr. Hartley's labours. A friend of the Society, who has visited Smyrna, mentions it as a most important Missionary Station; and observes that Mr. Hartley has much gained the affections of the people.

The state of the JEWS in these countries is highly interesting. There is manifestly a growing spirit, both of inquiry and of conviction, as to the truth of Christianity. Eight Jews were baptized at Constantinople by the Armenians; who soon after were banished to Cæsarea, with John Baptist, and the Younger John, whom God appears to have blessed as the means of their conversion. Other Jews have followed their example: and there are now at Cæsarea thirteen Jewish Christians, who have been banished from Constantinople for the name of Christ.

During the Rev. Frederick Hildner's residence in Corfu, he much promoted the work of Female and Sunday-School Education in that place. He has since joined Dr. Korck at Syra, by direction of the Committee; but it is hoped that his labours in Corfu will be carried forward by others.

Dr. Korck has had much success in the Island of Syra; and has also assisted in establishing Schools at Andros, Tino, Mycono, and in other parts. There were 630 Children in the Schools formed by him. The situation of the Island of Syra, where he resides, and its commerce with other countries, have furnished him with opportunities of intercourse with both Turks and Moors; and several Schoolmasters have been instructed by him.

Alluding to the party spirit prevailing among the Greeks, Dr. Korck says, "They need much more the prayers and charities of Christians, than the assistance of Kings, to save them from destruction."

Dr. Korck has received much assistance from Greek Females. He says—

In order to give the public more confidence, and, at the same time, to interest the Greek Ladies more in Education, I engaged, last summer, eight of the most respectable Matrons, Married Ladies of Hermopolis, to form themselves into a Committee for the inspection of the Girls' School; and obtained for them sanction from the Extraordinary Commissary of the Northern Cyclades. Resembling in zeal their Sisters in England, they have proved to me the most valuable co-operators. Of their own accord, going from house to house, they have collected nearly 3000 piastres for the New Building for the Girls' School.

Egypt.

The Mission to Egypt is yet in its infancy. At Cairo, 2 Schools have been established; in which were 51 Children, consisting of Greeks, Copts, Armenians, and Roman Catholics; and a Girls' School, with 21 Girls.

Dr. Klugé has returned to Europe, as mentioned above.

Before Mr. Gobat proceeded to Abyssinia, he stated, that by his lodging with Dr. Dussap he had an opportunity of seeing persons who called for medical assistance, and of proclaiming to them the way of Salvation; dwelling particularly on these points—That Christ must be all in all; and that Religion consists not in outward observances, but in a right state of heart. He had been able to preach the Gospel to Arabs, Italians, Frenchmen, Germans, Englishmen, and Jews. No fruits had, indeed, yet appeared, excepting that the Scriptures were read diligently in many houses. M. Champollion, and the Learned Frenchmen associated with him, assured Mr. Gobat that the facts recorded in the Scriptures relative to Egypt were contained in the Hieroglyphics found in that country.

The Rev. Theodore Müller, having for a season withdrawn from the service of the Society, went to Jaffa. Being there persecuted by the Maronite Patriarch, he removed to Cyprus. Mr. Müller has now been re-instated in his connection with the Society, and will resume his labours in Egypt.

Abyssinia.

The Missionaries Gobat and Kugler left Cairo at the latter end of October, on their way to Abyssinia, by Suez and Jidda. It appears that they departed from Jidda for Massowah, a small island just off the coast of Abyssinia, toward the end of November, to embrace the first favourable opening for entering that country. The Abyssinian, Girgis, had returned to Cairo; but Messrs. Gobat and Kugler had set off to Suez before his arrival. He wrote to them at Suez to delay their departure, on account of the present troubled state of Abyssinia; but they had probably quitted Suez before the Letter reached that place. A fresh Deputation had arrived in Caïro from Abyssinia, for a Patriarch from the See of Alexandria. The Committee look up to Him who directs all things to His own glory, to overrule the discord and confusion which so frequently distract and afflict that unhappy country, that they may not obstruct the entering in of the Gospel, but rather open a great and effectual door for its admission. The Amharic Scriptures appear likely to be one of the main instruments for reviving Christianity in that country.

The accounts of Girgis, which have been received from one who accompanied him to Abyssinia, are calculated to strengthen the hope of his ultimate usefulness; as this person spoke of him as often reading the Amharic Gospels, speaking of those books as exceedingly dear to him, and praying to God after reading them.

General Remarks.

The general views of the Committee respecting this Mission have been fully stated in the Instructions given to Mr. Jowett, and in his Reply, printed in the Missionary Register for September last, pp. 407-417. The extent and magnitude of its direct sphere of operations, and its bearing on so large a part of the Heathen World, with its immediate connection with all the scenes in which the events that most deeply interest man were transacted, will ever make it an attractive scene of labour to the Christian's mind: but the growth of the Mission itself, the course of Providence as it regards the chief Empires around its shores, and the predictions yet to be accomplished concerning those Empires, will yet more intensely increase the expectations and hopes of the Christian, that here again God may especially manifest himself, in the restoration of these fallen Churches to the pure faith of Christ.

INDIA.

THE Committee introduce their notice of the Society's Missions in India with some General Remarks on the importance and character of Missionary Labours in that country.

The position of Hindoostan, and the Asiatic Islands connected with it, is of peculiar interest and moment with reference to a large portion of the Heathen World. It is surrounded by the great Heathen and Mahomedan Empires of the earth. On one side are Arabia and Persia; on the other, Thibet, China, and Burmah. Over a country thus situated, God has been gradually extending the empire and the influence of Britain. A century back, our possessions consisted of little more than a few Factories and small districts on the coast; but the Divine Providence has so overruled events, that Britain now exercises undisputed supremacy over Hindoostan. The effects of Christian Government, as contrasted with that of Heathens and Mahomedans, has been such as manifestly to display the superiority of our Holy Religion; though, from causes which it is unnecessary here to unfold, these effects have been less-extensively produced than might have been desired and expected by the True Christian. Under British Rule, the Natives of India, however, enjoy a security of person and property, and a general state of peace, to which, previously, they had long been strangers. The enjoyment of these blessings is calculated to make a valuable impression on the minds of reflecting Natives; and to give them a favourable idea of our Religion, to which, ultimately, these blessings are to be traced up.

British Supremacy in India is also capable of affording us facilities of access for Missionary purposes, of great importance. The numerous and hostile Tribes, the diversified Dialects, and the unhealthy climate of Africa, impede our easy entrance there. The despotic Governments of Persia, China, and Burmah, leave us little opening to those countries: but in India, British sway and British influence may, without violation of the rights of acquired sovereignty, admit the Christian Missionary into every district, every city, and every village, to proclaim to all the freedom wherewith Christ makes free. To a Country thus situated, we have the most powerful motives for using every effort to communicate the Gospel of Christ.

Yet, while giving these views of the obligations of Christians with reference to India, the Committee are constrained to add, that the vices of Europeans among the Heathen have often placed the Missionary in a very painful situation, and have materially obstructed the progress of the Gospel. The charge which was of old brought against the Jews is fearfully true, at the present day, of multitudes of those who bear the Christian name:—When they entered unto the Heathen, whither they went, they profaned my Holy Name, when they said to them, These are the people of the Lord, and are come forth out of His land.

In reference to the topics just adverted to, the approaching Renewal of the Charter of the East-India Company claims the earnest attention of the Members of the Society. The efforts of the friends of Christianity in the year 1813, preparatory to the present Charter being granted, were, through the blessing of God, attended with the most beneficial results. Much, however, still remains to be done. Christian Natives not only do not, at present, enjoy that freedom in the profession of Christianity which is due to them as British Subjects; but they incur disadvantages and disabilities, to which Hindoos and Mahomedans are not liable. The gift of Divine Revelation imposes on a Christian Government the obligation NOT so to administer it as to render the profession of Christianity injurious to its subjects. All that is desired on their behalf is, that the reception of Christianity shall not place them in a worse situation, as subjects, than that in which they stood as Hindoos or Mussulmans. It behoves us, as Christians, to use to the utmost the means placed within our reach by Divine Providence to secure adequate provision for this object in the new Charter of the East-India Company, that the Gospel of Christ may have free course and be glorified, throughout those wide-extended Countries placed beneath our sway.

It will have rejoiced all the friends of humanity as well as of Missions, to hear that Lord William Bentinck, the present Governor-General of India, has issued a Government Regulation, applicable to the Bengal Presidency, declaring "the habit of Suttee, or of burning or burying alive the Widows of Hindoos, illegal, and punishable by the Criminal Courts." The Christian will also regard this auspicious event as removing from our Country a heavy load of national guilt, and be cheered with the hope of its beneficial effects on the minds of the Hindoos.

The Committee do not find it easy to give a just view of the progress of the Society's Missions in India; as even good men form different estimates of it, according to the character of their own mind, and the relative circumstances in which they may have been placed. The following remarks, by a Missionary, will shew on what grounds these estimates are sometimes formed, and how difficult it is for the Committee to exhibit the state of a Mission in a point of view free from all exception:—

No doubt you will get as many different accounts from India as hand-writings; for the views of the Country, and of the condition of the Mission, are formed, I am afraid, more according to the disposition of the writer, than of the actual state of things. It may be, that, by some, the good has been over-rated; but it is also true, that, by others, the actual good may be denied. But this may be easily accounted for. Natives are determined to please the Sahib, as the European is termed, in any way they can. If they observe him to delight in good accounts, he may hear a great deal of good: on the other hand, if they see him inclined to hear evil reports, he will be set afloat with streams of bad accounts. Therefore I may almost venture to say, that you will find out the disposition of a man in his own communications. And not only so; but even a man free from prejudices may be led into many errors, from the want of a knowledge of the language, and of the manner in which the Natives express themselves.

He adds:—

I feel assured that the work of the Lord is begun, and that His kingdom is coming; but not with observation or outward shew; neither do we get more respectable converts than the Son of God did, when tabernacling among men.

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

THE general aspect of this Mission, amidst many discouragements from the removal and sickness of Missionaries, affords much ground for thankfulness. The departure of the Rev. Timothy Sandys and Mrs. Sandys has been already noticed; as have also the further detention in this country of the Rev. Messrs. Jetter and Adlington and their Wives, and Mrs. Wilkinson; the return home of the Rev. T. Morris and Mrs. Morris, and the Rev. J. Latham and Mrs. Latham; and the decease of the Rev. C. Friend.

The Society has lost a most sincere and valuable friend in the Rev. T. T. Thomason, late Chaplain to the East-India Company in the Bengal Establishment. Mr. Thomason's health failed very soon after his return to Calcutta, in November 1828. He removed to the Mauritius, in April 1829, in the hope that a change of air might be beneficial: but this hope was not realized: he grew worse, and fell asleep in Christ on the 22d of June last. Such wise, kind, disinterested friends of Missions, whose lives are devoted to the Cause of Christ, will ever live in the grateful recollection of His true disciples. This, and other losses, have materially weakened the Calcutta Mission; and our friends there earnestly plead for additional help. They say—

You will, I know, do what you can to help us; and may the Great Head of the Church raise up suitable aid! Devoted piety is the first ingredient in the Missionary Character: without it, all attainments of mind or in science are but as sounding brass. Send us men who love the Saviour; and who can be content with food and raiment for His sake, looking for the recompence of reward.

The Committee fear that it will be some time before it will be in their power adequately to strengthen this Mission. In the mean time, the minds of their friends have been refreshed by the arrival of the Bishop, who safely reached the Presidency in November last.

There are 12 Stations connected with this Mission—Calcutta, Culna, Burdwan, Buxar, Benares, Chunar, Allahabad, Gorruckpore, Bareilly, Agra, Meerut, and Kurnaul. They are chiefly occupied by Native Teachers; Ordained Missionaries being found only at the Principal Stations. There are 2761 Children receiving instruction; and, during the past year, 25 Adults have embraced Christianity, and been baptized in the Name of Jesus.

The Ministry of the Word at Calcutta was maintained by the Rev. John Latham, who was kindly assisted by the Rev. W. Morton, Missionary of the Society for propagating the Gospel.

The Publications in the Native Languages, which have issued from the Society's Press, during the past year, have consisted chiefly of 40,800 Tracts and Sermons in Hinduwee, for the use of Native Christians and Hindoos; 5000 in Bengalee; and 500 in Hindoostanee.

The Hindoostanee Version of the Common Prayer has been revised, completed, and nearly carried through the Press. The Society is much indebted to Archdeacon Corrie for the assistance which he has given in this work.

Female Education.

Female Education continues to be maintained, under Mrs. Wilson's direction. In a Letter to Mrs. Jetter, dated in February 1829, she states that from 150 to 200 Girls are in daily attendance, with Female Teachers or Monitors. Among other works, Watts's Catechism, A Dialogue between a Mother and her Daughter on Salvation by Christ, Bible History translated by the Burdwan Youths, The Gospel of St. Matthew, and The Acts, are used in the School. Lady William Bentinck has manifested herself to be a kind and real friend.

The Female Monitors, 25 in number, are almost all, young as they are, Widows, or deserted by their husbands. In their destitution, they resorted to the friend of their youth, who thus turns their acquirements to general good.

Burdwan and Culna.

The Stations at Burdwan and Culna continue under the care of the Rev. W. J. Deerr. In 13 Schools there were, in June last, 1063 Scholars, of whom 626 read the Scriptures. Eight Schools had been closed, for want of efficient aid. Eleven Adults were baptized last year. The Christians at Culna live in the dwellings where they resided before they were baptized, being native inhabitants: those at Burdwan dwell on the Mission Premises, being collected from various parts of the country, and having no other refuge. The Communicants at the Lord's Supper are few, from want of opportunity to bring them on in instruction.

Chunar.

The early and sudden removal of Mr. Friend to his heavenly home left to the Rev. W. Bowley, with disabled health, the entire charge of Chunar. The Rev. M. Wilkinson sent to him an Assistant of the name of M'Leod, who is likely to prove a blessing to this Station, and to supply, for the present, the wants of the Native Christians. Four Adult Natives were baptized during the past year, and a Missionary Association was formed.

Benares.

Mr. Eteson continues the Mission at Benares, with a Congregation of from 50 to 70, and the charge of Jay Narain's Free Schools and four Hinduwee Schools.

Archdeacon Corrie, on visiting these scenes of his early Ministry, expresses his grateful admiration of the condescension and care of Divine Providence respecting them.

Gorruckpore.

The Station at Gorruckpore continues to prosper, under the Divine Blessing, on the labours of the

Rev. Michael Wilkinson. The Native Christian Community consists of 105 persons—men, women, and children. Eight Adults were baptized in the course of the year. A considerable spirit of inquiry has been excited. There are five Schools. The Converts, with one exception, have continued to walk consistently with their Christian Profession. They are, as usual, exposed to much obloquy and reproach, and suffer persecution from their countrymen. One, who thus endured a great fight of afflictions, says—

I was enabled to bear it all. God was with me. I told them, their threats were of no avail: they were like dogs that could only bark, and were afraid to bite: that once I was blind like them, and worshipped I knew not what—gods that were no gods, the work of men's hands, wood, stone, &c.: that having found the True God, I could never renounce Him, nor dishonour Him, by again returning to the worship of Idols, &c. After which, the Brahmins pronounced me mad, and went away: some, however, said, "He is become very wise: whence did he get all this learning?"

General Remarks.

One of the Missionaries thus writes:—

It is a matter of fact, that the Christian Religion is viewed with jealousy and terror in those places only where Missionary exertions never existed; as far as the people know it, they call our Religion divine, although they do not embrace it, nor obey its precepts. Were the Natives still possessed with the prejudices they formerly had, why would Parents allow their Children to learn by heart the Catechisms, Gospels, &c.?—for it is well known that they formerly would not touch a book; and in places where new attempts are made, this difficulty still exists. But on the other hand, look at Burdwan, Chinsurah, and in places where the operations of the Mission have existed for some considerable time, there is no more any odious feeling or jealousy against our Scriptures. A number of Heathen Natives attend our Christian Worship.

The Calcutta Committee observe, in their Report—

The utility of bringing the truths of the Gospel before the Adult Population, by preaching, is more and more apparent; and impressions, as favourable to Christianity as conducive to human happiness, are disseminated by preaching, where no individual conversion follows; and thus a way is preparing for the general reception of the Gospel.

SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

THE state of this Mission is progressive, and furnishes many causes of thankfulness to the Father of Mercies; but, as usual, the joy of success is tempered with trials. Where there is an extended sphere of labour, and many minds are to be combined and united, there have ever been, and there are here, those difficulties which exercise our faith, and those differences of judgment which call for mutual forbearance and charity; and the great enemy is active to avail himself of the advantages which the infirmities of men give him.

The decease of the Rev. J. Kindlinger, the appointment of the Rev. W. Sawyer to a Chaplaincy, and the respective departures of Mr. A. B. Duckham the Printer, the Rev. C. Blackman and his Wife, and the Rev. Joseph Marsh, have been before stated.

Nilgherry Hills Establishment.

The requisite preparation of premises has delayed, for the present, the actual commencement of the Institution on the Nilgherry Hills; but the Rev. J. B. Morewood having arrived at Madras, some of the Missionaries' Children have been under his care at that place, till the arrangements on the Hills are completed.

Madras.

The Station at Madras is under the care of the Rev. Messrs. James Ridsdale and P. P. Schaffter, and several Native Teachers. It is intended by the Committee that the Seminary at the Presidency shall be placed under the charge of the Rev. J. Marsh. Besides the Services in the Native Town, there are Services at Perambore, Chingleput, Poonamallee, and Tripasore. The number of hearers is yet small; but they are generally very attentive; and 9 Adults have been baptized during the year. There are 10 Schools with 441 Scholars; among whom are 14 Brahmins, 192 Soodras, 14 Mussulmans, and 84 Pariars: there are also 28 Scholars in the Seminary. The English Congregation, under Mr. Ridsdale's Ministry, has much increased: there are 60 Communicants.

Mr. Alfred Duckham will, on his arrival, take charge of the Printing Press, which has already been extensively useful in the printing of Portions of the Scripture and other Works.

The Native Missionary Association has raised 1175 Rupees for the Building or Repairing of Churches or Schools.

The death of the Rev. John Kindlinger has been recorded. His last advice to his Wife was, "to spend the remainder of her life in doing the utmost in promoting the Cause of Christ among the people." In the spirit of this advice, she has undertaken the charge of Female Education at Madras; and has under her care 13 Native Female Schools. A Committee of Ladies was formed at Madras, in May last, for the support of these Schools, and considerable Contributions have been raised for the purpose.

Mayaveram.

The Congregation at Mayaveram continues small: 7 Heathens have been lately baptized. The Seminary contains 34 Students, and there were 1657 Scholars in the Schools at the date of the last returns. The Rev. G. T. Bärenbruck and John Devasagayam continue their labours with zeal and diligence.

Tinnevelly.

The Missionaries Rhenius, Schmid, and Winckler, with the assistance of Mr. Regel and Mr. Coombes, 51 Native Catechists, and 25 Native Schoolmasters, have the charge of this important and interesting Station.

The following Summary will shew the state of this Mission at the end of 1828. Connected with 46 Stations, there were 167 Villages, with 56 Chapels or Prayer-houses, and 1408 Houses or Families. Of Unbaptized, under Christian Instruction, there were, 1312 Men, 1226 Women, 1018 Boys, and 909 Girls; making a total of 4465. Of Baptized, there were, 322 Men, 202 Women, 139 Boys, and 97 Girls; making a total of 760. The entire number under instruction was 5225; being an increase, in six months, of 61 Baptized, and 970 souls. The increase in the year 1829, so far as accounts have been received, was full of encouragement. At the close of the June Quarter 1829, the labours of the Missionaries extended to 53 Catechist Stations, with 205 Villages, comprising 1855 Families or Houses, and forming an aggregate of 6243 souls under Christian Instruction, being an increase of 1938 souls since the preceding July. There were 976 Children in the Schools, of whom 53 are Girls. Seminaries have also been established for Youths and Young Females. The Society will join in the concluding Prayer of the Missionaries:—“May the Lord Jesus soon be glorified throughout this land!”

At the request of the Rev. Mr. Haubroe of Tanjore, the Tinnevely Missionaries have taken the superintendence of the Congregations of this Province connected with the Madras District Committee of the Society for promoting Christian Knowledge.

The evidence of success among the Adults in this Mission shews, that to look for the Conversion of the Natives through Education only is reckoning much below our just expectations. The public Preaching of the Gospel among Adults has been attended with a large measure of the Divine Blessing.

The following passages are selected from the Journals of the Missionaries, in order to illustrate the state of the Mission:—

Toward the evening I arrived at Shenkoollam, where I found old Nganayudam the Singer, and Masillamany the Blind Man, well, and lively in the Faith, together with the Headman of the Village. Masillamany said, among other things, that he waited the Lord's will to be delivered from this present troublesome world, more especially as he is deprived of his sight. Christ is his comfort and joy: in Him he has his treasure in heaven. All the baptized people here seem, on the whole, to walk worthy of their profession; and I had a sweet meeting this evening with the Congregation. The Headman related, that they have just been threatened by their enemies to have their houses broken into and robbed. I encouraged them to commit themselves to the Lord.

One of the Missionaries, after visiting the Native Congregation, writes—

During this tour among the Congregations, I have returned with the clear conviction that Divine Knowledge and Divine Life are steadily increasing in all the Congregations. Although it is not so rapid as we could wish, yet I think I can say it is more rapid than we could expect, considering the depth of ignorance and the power of habit from which they have come out. Often I was constrained to say to myself, "Of a truth, this is a work of the Holy Spirit!" In all Catechists' Stations which I visited, I conversed with Heathens who had just come forward; and several of them attended Divine Service for the first time.

After alluding to the comparatively little countenance or assistance received from Public Authorities, the Missionaries proceed:—

We cannot but ascribe the present cheering aspect of the Christian Cause here to the special favour of God, more especially when we consider the opposition of many Natives to the growth of the Divine Kingdom, in nearly every part of the District: for there are native enemies, particularly some of the rich people, who strive much to excite the enmity of other people against us: but the Lord restrains them, and all their exertions to oppose and overthrow us have hitherto proved fruitless. God is evidently for us; and this the Heathen themselves, even Brahmins, have openly declared. We, and our Christians, and our Christian Schoolmasters, go on preaching, teaching, distributing Tracts and the Scriptures, praying, confiding in the Promises, and persevering in the blessed work. We are, indeed, continually in fight with the Spirit of Darkness: it is often hard, and we sometimes fear that darkness will prevail; but we are as often made ashamed of our unbelief. The Lord hears our prayers. The north of this District is now also called to give up. Several Congregations are growing there; and lately a new one has sprung up in the Zeemindary of Ettiyapooram.

The Mission has not arrived at its present state without many obstacles and many trials; but they have all been overruled for good. At one period, Christians were subjected to a serious persecution, and the number of those who had offered themselves for Baptism decreased. The Missionaries make the following remarks on this and the other difficulties of the Mission:—

The decrease of the Congregations was only temporary.

Those who stood firm were more and more edified ; and the Word of God and the nature of Christianity became better understood among Christians and Heathens. Various Providential circumstances aided the spread of knowledge, or rather the increase of desire to know the Truth : such as, the cholera ; deaths by it, notwithstanding the people's sacrifices to their Idols ; the flood in 1827 ; difficulties attending the processions of the Idol Cars at their Feasts, notwithstanding the facilities given by Government again, as before ; Idols being robbed from their Temples by the Heathen themselves ; Tracts published on those occasions ; success attending our labours in the town of Tinnevely itself, by the rise of a Congregation, and the building of a Church in the midst of it ; stedfastness of those Congregations which had been most persecuted ; the daily more-apparent impotency of the idol gods to do any thing in their defence : these and similar circumstances operated most favourably upon all classes, and the Congregations begin again to increase.

Speaking of the way in which God has raised up Labourers from among the Natives, the Missionaries add an appeal to Christians to provide means to support them :—

Now our money begins to fail. If that stops, our ability to provide Teachers will stop also. But we must not allow unbelief to make us afraid. We would trust that the Lord of the Harvest will still provide, and that England's and India's Christians will not be slack to come to the help of the Lord. He tells them to send money to the Missionaries in Palamcottah, to support Catechists and Schoolmasters. Let those refuse who can.

Besides Teachers, we require, also, means to assist the people in building Places of Worship and School-houses. Those who first declare themselves for Christianity in a village are usually but few families ; they are not able to defray such expenses alone ; they must have aid, or no Chapel or School will be erected. But the very erection of such buildings is the signal and an encouragement to others to come forward likewise. We really believe that the present enlargement of the Church in this District is partly owing to the erection of the Church in Palamcottah and Tinnevely. They proclaim, as it were, that Christianity has advanced ; and give to the Cause an external stability, which greatly operates on the fearful minds of the Natives.

Great pains continue to be bestowed in improving the Tamul Translation of the Scriptures, in order to render it correct and idiomatic. The circulation of it has already been attended with much advantage.

On the state of the Congregations collected in the Tinnevelly Mission it seems necessary to make some remarks. The Missionaries are far from representing the people to be in the state of order and spirituality which they ardently desire; but which no Church, under the present imperfect dispensation, will fully realize; and which it would be unreasonable to expect in a large body of people just emerging from the thick darkness of the grossest and most polluting Idolatry. The Native Catechists, who have been the chief instruments in the work of Conversion, are also mostly young, imperfectly instructed, and, as yet, with little experience. There is no remedy for this deficiency, but patience. The call for Native Teachers has been loud and importunate: the Missionaries have answered it, not as they wished, but as they could; and God has owned the effort, and blessed it exceedingly, notwithstanding the imperfection of the means. Amidst many cheering proofs of real conversion, however, the Missionaries, like the first Apostle of the Gentiles, have had to weep over many cases in which the evils of the Corinthian and Laodicean Churches were visible. These are the tares which the Enemy sows among the rising wheat. Faith is exercised by these discouragements; prayer excited; and the necessity of exclusive dependence on the Divine Power, to sustain and perfect the work, impressively taught.

This summary view of this deeply interesting Mission calls upon the Members of the Society to rejoice in what the Lord has done, but with trembling; and to be much in prayer for the Missionaries, and their, as yet, tender flocks—that He, who breaks not the bruised reed, may strengthen, invigorate, and confirm the Work of Grace, and preserve the Converts stedfast and immoveable, amidst the difficulties and temptations of their situation. Notwithstanding the pecuniary difficulties which have pressed on the Committee, they could not resist the appeals from Tinnevelly, and especially the awakening Address from the Missionaries, printed in the Monthly Paper for October last, pp. 171, 172. Several sums, one amounting to 300*l.*, have been contributed in aid of this Mission; and the Committee have, in consequence, enlarged the Grant to the South-India Mission 500*l.* beyond the usual sum, to enable the Madras Corresponding Committee to give the necessary support to the operations of the Missionaries in Tinnevelly.

Cottayam.

The Missionaries Bailey, Baker, and Doran, with Mr. Bease, and Six Native Assistants, remain at Cottayam.

The Syrian College has 53 Students, who are divided into 8 Classes. The Grammar School contains 59 Boys, who, with the exception of 6 Nairs, are all Syrians. Thirty-five Parochial Schools contain 1042 Scholars; and a Female School, 42 Scholars.

Four Presses are constantly employed in printing Portions of the Scriptures and Religious Treatises, adapted to the wants of the people. The Scriptures are in much request among the Syrians; and the Metropolitan himself largely distributes them, when visiting the Churches. Much may be hoped from the diffusion of the Scriptures; and symptoms of a desire for them are more and more manifested. Four Readers of the Scriptures have been employed with good effect among the Syrians.

Allepie.

At Allepie, Mr. Norton has several Native Assistants; 7 of whom are supported by a Friend in the vicinity. He has 1 English and 5 Malayalim Boys' Schools, and 1 Girls' School. The Congregation at Allepie consists of about 80: and about half that number often attend Family Worship.

Cochin.

At Cochin, the Rev. S. Ridsdale continues to labour, with several Native Assistants. Weekly Services are maintained in Malayalim and Portuguese, as well as in English; with Daily Morning Prayers in Malayalim, at which 90 attend. The Converted Jew, Samuel, who came hither from Cotta, and who, it was feared, had apostatized, boldly confesses Christ among the Jews, and suffers persecution for His Name: he appears to be useful among his Countrymen. There are 6 Male Schools, with 294 Scholars; and 4 Female Schools, with 64 Female Scholars. A Seminary also is established for the preparation of Native Teachers, which has 44 Students.

Mr. Ridsdale has been joined by a valuable Fellow-labourer from among the Roman Catholics, the Rev. Stephen Lima; who appears to have been much blessed among the Portuguese, 400 of whom have been assembled to hear him. The strong-holds of Popery have been much shaken in Cochin.

Tellicherry.

The Schools at Tellicherry were proceeding satisfactorily, under the superintendence of Mr. J. Baptist.

Bellary.

At Bellary, a Missionary Association has been established; but the Society has not been able to set apart a Missionary for the Station.

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

THE operations of this Mission are still of limited extent. The Rev. J. Dixon, and the Rev. C. P. Farrar and Mrs. Farrar, have joined the Rev. W. Mitchell in Bandora. Mr. Mitchell has made a new Translation of the Gospel of St. Matthew into Mahratta: it has been much approved, by some of the best Mahratta Scholars. Mr. Dixon is editing the Gospel of St. Luke and the Acts of the Apostles, in Persian, from the Translation of the Rev. Henry Martyn, at the Lithographic Press; as likely to be more acceptable to Persians of rank and influence, from its similarity to manuscript. Both he and Mr. and Mrs. Farrar have made progress in acquiring Mahratta: and our Friends trust all will be used by the Great Head of the Church as the means of establishing a very useful Mission; though the Missionaries, at present, see little Spiritual fruit from their labours.

CEYLON MISSION.

THE Eleventh Annual Meeting of the Missionaries was held at Cotta, September 3, 1829, and the following days; the Rev. Messrs. Lambrick, Knight, Browning, Bailey, Adley, Selkirk, and Faught, being present. Mr. Lambrick states, that it was a profitable season, God giving them one heart and one mind.

COLOMBO.

The Rev. Joseph Bailey has, for some time, had the charge of St. Paul's Church, in Colombo: he states, that he finds plenty of Missionary employment among the Cingalese and Portuguese Inhabitants of that populous place: and Archdeacon Glenie speaks strongly of the value of his labours among the Europeans.

COTTA.

Congregations are assembled in the School-houses in the different Villages connected with this Station; but they are small, except at Yakbadda, where the Service is always respectably attended. The Place of Worship there, 32 feet long and 20 wide and covered with tiles, was built chiefly through the zeal of the Natives themselves.

The Baptized Jew, of whose apostacy fears were expressed in the last Report, remains stedfast in his Christian Profession, and is labouring usefully at Cochin.

Institution.

The examination of the Students in the Cotta Institution gave great satisfaction to all the Brethren. Elias Andrews has been appointed Probationary Assistant: his conduct has been steady and consistent.

Schools.

There are 33 Girls in the Female School. There are 11 Out-Schools, containing 313 Children; and this number would be soon more than doubled, and many established in the immediate vicinity of Cotta, but for the want of funds.

Translations.

During the last year, the Gospel of Mark, the Epistle to the Romans, and part of St. Luke, translated into familiar Cingalese, have been printed, with a greater number of Tracts than in any former year.

The person who had assisted Mr. Lambrick in the Translations for many years, and of whom he had at one time entertained the best hopes, has been separated from the Mission for conduct inconsistent with his profession. Another Translator has been engaged in his place.

Mr. Selkirk thus speaks of a Native Convert at Yakbadda:—

His faith in his Saviour; his love to God; his patience under great sufferings, for he is yet in a very precarious state; his pity for the people of the Villages, who are ignorant of that Saviour from whom he now derives support and consolation; and his desire that the Church should be finished in order that they may have regular Christian Instruction, are so remarkable, that I cannot think that they are the feelings of any, except of those who are the Children of God and the Heirs of Glory. His present outward situation is deplorable: he is lying on a mat on the floor; and his leg, that was broken, is fastened down to two stakes driven into the earthen floor, one on each side, so that it is impossible for him to move it, while at the same time he is suffering great pain: still he blesses God that he has been and is afflicted.

NELLORE.

The cause of Missions is advancing here; and besides individual instances of conversion, decided proofs are given of decreasing attachment to Idolatry among the people generally. Between 600 and 700 Children daily commit to memory portions of the Holy Scriptures and Catechisms. The Female Schools, though generally continued, do not yet appear to answer the hopes of the Missionaries. The education of the Boys has manifestly a beneficial tendency, even where the full effect to be desired has not been produced.

The account of the Native Convert Samuel, who died from the bite of a serpent, (which was given in the Record for April, pp. 73—78,) is a pleasing manifestation of the power of Divine Grace. His Wife and a Young Man a relative, have been admitted as Candidates for Baptism.

KANDY.

The Rev. T. Browning felt the importance of a Church at Kandy, as an inducement to the people to attend Public Worship, and a monument of the love of Christians to their God and Saviour in that strong-hold of Idolatry, now filled with Heathen Temples; yet was unwilling to trespass on the depressed funds of the Society, and therefore endeavoured to accomplish the object by private subscriptions: but he has not yet been able to procure more than one-third of the sum requisite for the undertaking. The Government, however, purposes to build a Church for the Garrison. The Congregations at Kandy are small. There are Communicants; 5 Cingalese, and 3 Portuguese.

Mr. Browning describes the good work as proceeding, though by slow degrees. He pours out the affecting prayer—"Oh! that the arm of the Lord were revealed, in converting many from the error of their ways, and in bringing them acquainted with salvation through Jesus Crucified!"

BADDAGAME.

The Congregation at the Church has increased, the Missionaries having urged the people to attend more frequently; and the number of School-Children is greater. The Buddhist Priests are, however, very zealous and daring in their opposition to Christianity; and the people are held in bondage by varied superstitions. On fine Sundays, about 300 Children attend Church. Iwan Alwis has departed this life; the third Christian Brother at this Station, from among the Heathen, who has died in faith and hope.

AUSTRALASIAN MISSION.

THE arrival of the Rev. A. N. Brown and his Companions at New South-Wales, the sailing of Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, and the return home of Mr. and Mrs. Lisk, are stated in a preceding part of this Report.

Mrs. Norman, after a lengthened illness, died at Hobart Town, much esteemed and lamented.

The Rev. Samuel Marsden continues still the disinterested and devoted friend of the Society and its objects. He would probably soon revisit New Zealand.

A Vessel of about 100 Tons, named the "Active," has been purchased by the Society for the use of the New-Zealand Mission, to replace the "Herald;" and sailed from this Country in December.

NEW HOLLAND.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies having made known to the Committee the desire of His Majesty's Government to take measures for the Religious Instruction and social improvement of the Aborigines of New Holland, and that the Society should furnish two Religious Teachers to labour among them in prosecution of this object, for whose support 500*l.* per annum would be set apart out of the Colonial Funds, the Committee gladly availed themselves of this opening, and two individuals are under preparation for this scene of labour.

NEW ZEALAND.

The New-Zealand Mission continues to encourage the best hopes of the friends of the Society.

After much consideration of all the circumstances brought before them, the Committee have directed the Missionaries to give up the Settlement at Ranghee-hoo, in order to strengthen the other Stations; rather than to remove it to Tepuna, as mentioned in the last Report.

There were 170 Children in the Schools at the three Stations—Kiddee-kiddee, Ranghee-hoo, and Pyhea. A Chapel, 40 feet by 20, has been built and opened at Pyhea. In December 1828, the first Annual Examination of the Schools took place. The Rev. W. Yate says—

I do not know that I ever experienced feelings of greater satisfaction, than those which arose from the sight of these New Zealanders; all collected together in our Chapel; all under the Means of Grace; and all evidently anxious to learn any thing which we may require from them.

About 60 strangers of the Natives were present, in addition to the 170 Children.

The progress of the Mission is manifest, by comparing it with its past state. One of the Missionaries says—

I am fully convinced that their own superstitions are losing ground in their estimation; whilst the principles of the Gospel—though, like leaven, unseen—are making sure and certain progress. It is very encouraging to us to contrast the character and conduct of the Natives now, to what it was two years ago.

Another says—

Very much of the rubbish is clearing away; and the prospect of usefulness is every day more evident.

Another adds—

The Natives living with us, in general, look upon their Native Customs with disgust, and will not pay any regard to them. Some of the Natives are beginning to express, in their own terms, their Christian feelings.

A New Zealander thus described the trouble he felt on account of the obstinate hardness of his heart:—

“I am bad with vexation for the exceeding fixedness of my bad heart.”

Mr. Richard Davis remarks—

We have, before this, had dying testimonies; but now we can bless God for living witnesses. This, I am sure, must rejoice the hearts of all who love the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity; and is a source of encouragement, to persevere in the work of making known to the poor Heathen the unsearchable riches of Christ.

The Committee have viewed with cordial satisfaction the zealous and persevering labours of the Missionaries in New Zealand, and the spirit of concord which prevails among them.

Few things have been more strikingly illustrative of the gracious care and watchful providence of the Great Head of the Church, than the perfect security of the unprotected Missionaries among the warlike and turbulent Natives of New Zealand. Devoid of all European protection, situated among wild and cannibal savages, God has, now for fourteen years, preserved them unhurt. As He shut the mouths of the lions in the den into which Daniel was cast, so has He marvellously restrained the sanguinary disposition of the New Zealanders, and preserved His Servants from all injury, that they may declare His glory to the people among whom they dwell.

WEST INDIES' MISSION.

JAMAICA.

THE Society has Stations in Jamaica, Demerara, and Essequibo.

The Committee of the Jamaica Auxiliary Church Missionary Society continue to superintend the Mission; and the Catechists, Messrs. Collins, Manning, and Wood, sent out by the Society, with others who have been appointed by the Jamaica Committee, are on different Estates, promoting the Religious Instruction of the Slaves.

Mr. William Stearn and Mrs. Stearn have joined this Mission, as already noticed.

The Proprietors of the Estates in Jamaica to which the Society has sent Catechists have shewn a hearty disposition to assist and forward the instruction of the Slaves on their Estates, by defraying a considerable part of the expense of the Mission. One of these Proprietors has given the entire Saturday to his Slaves. This is a most important fact; as by law the Slaves have only the Sunday allowed to them for their own concerns; and are therefore under the necessity of making that a day for marketing, instead of being able to attend to Religious Instruction; and are thus, in truth, deprived of the blessings of the Christian Sabbath. The impossibility of giving adequate Religious Education and Instruction to the Slaves under this system, and the evils thence arising, will be obvious to Christian minds.

Mr. Wood mentions, that the number of those who attend his instruction at Coley varies. If the people have Saturday for themselves, it is much larger than when they have not that day. On Sunday he has the two Services of the Church, Catechizing, and a School for any who will learn to read.

Mr. Manning, at Papine, has, on the average, 116 Adults, 19 Boys, and 14 Girls, who attend Public Worship. Every Monday and Thursday Evening about 50 Adults attend at his house, for instruction and Prayer. Every facility is afforded the people for obtaining instruction.

ESSEQUIBO.

Mr. Armstrong states, that his Day School goes on well, but that his Sunday Assembly is rather irregular. At present, the people in general are indifferent to the concerns of the soul. His attention has been turned towards the Native Indians and the Coloured Population.

DEMERARA.

The Mission in Demerara is greatly indebted to the Rev. Leonard Strong. Mr. Strong having been presented to the Living of St. Matthew's, on the East Coast of the Demerara, Mr. Carter, the Society's Catechist, removed to St. Matthew's, with Mrs. Strong, in October last. A Sunday School has been established in St. Matthew's, which has rapidly grown to 300 Children; and the Adults are eager to learn. An Evening School has been opened for the Adults. Encouragement is given, by the Planters and Managers, to the Sunday School, and the attendance of the Negroes.

A Missionary Association has been formed in Demerara, and several Collectors gather Contributions for the Society. The sum raised in the first year was 50%.

Mr. Strong has agreed to Mr. Carter's going, for the present, to establish Schools, and communicate Religious Instruction, on the Island of Leguan, at the mouth of the Essequibo River.

Our friends have been encouraged by the following instance of good done. One of the Sunday-School Girls at Beehive, from whom little had been expected, in her illness began to recollect the instructions which she had received, bewailed her sins, and fixed her eyes on the Saviour. Previous to her death, she sent for her Relations and School-fellows, and told them to take warning by her narrow escape, and to fly to Christ now. She spoke in a very feeling manner on the fleeting vanity of this life; shewing them, that all that the world would do for them, at last, was to bury them. She died with the word "Christ" on her lips.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

THE Mission on the whole, (it is said by Mr. Jones,) wears an encouraging aspect. During the few years of its operations, the hopes and prayers of its supporters have been realized beyond their anticipations. These encouraging circumstances have been felt, by myself and my Associates, as more than a compensation for the self-denial which, in the course of events, we have been called to exercise in the discharge of our duties.

In Three Sunday Schools there are 144 Scholars

The Committee have before stated the return to his labours of the Rev. D. Jones; and the retirement of Mr. Garrick, through ill health.

A boat arrived from Red River the day on which Mr. and Mrs. Jones landed, conveying pleasing intelligence both of the temporal and spiritual interests of the Colony. Mr. and Mrs. Jones purpose to reside at the Red-River Settlement; and Mr. and Mrs. Cockran will remove to a new place of residence, at the Rapids.

The following fact was communicated by Mr. Jones. An aged Indian Woman, called by a name meaning the Rose-bud, worshipped an Idol to which her devotion was extreme. Christian Instruction at length produced an impression upon her, and a very great change became manifest in her general conduct. She said, at last, to her Son-in-law: "Robert, you must go and speak to the Minister for me, for I want to be a worshipper of the true God. Tell him I have thrown away my foolish things, and wish to give myself to the Saviour of the World." She was afterward admitted to Baptism: her answers, on examination, were very satisfactory. After baptism, Mr. Jones asked for her Idol, she replied: "Noo-shee sym (My Grandchild), to hear of these things pains my ears now: to think of them troubles my heart: I therefore wish you to pass them by."

Mr. Cockran asked some who offered themselves for the Communion, and who appear to have been led to Christ, whether they thought that they could get to heaven without Him: with tears they answered, "Without Christ we can do nothing! We are sinful creatures: we can do nothing but sin, unless Christ keep us from it, and help us in the way to heaven."

CONCLUDING REMARKS.

In looking back on the past history of the Society's Missions, and in surveying their present state, the Committee would—with the Apostle, when he met the Brethren at Appii Forum—thank God, and take courage.

It has pleased God to open a door of utterance to the Society's Missionaries in the East and in the West, in the North and in the South; and in every place to give a measure of encouragement to proceed; and, in some places, such a measure as cannot but rejoice the Christian's heart.

The difficulties are such as were calculated to shew us the true character of our work, and our entire dependence on the Divine Arm for success. These difficulties are indeed very diversified and multiplied, both at home and abroad; and in every place we painfully see the power and multitude of our Spiritual Adversaries, and their great activity.

To rouse the Church of God to adequate exertion—to call forth extended Voluntary Contributions—to unite and combine varied judgments in one effort—to choose suitable Labourers—to prepare them for their work, and to send them to the Stations best adapted for them—were serious difficulties to be overcome. God has, however, enabled us, in a measure to overcome them; and we thank Him, and take courage.

To awaken the Heathen Mind, enchained as that mind has been, not only in the bondage of natural corruption, but in the multiplied further bonds of Ignorance, Superstition, Caste, Barbarism, Idolatry, for ages—to awaken those thus sunk, and to excite their attention to the pure and Holy Religion of Christ Jesus—this was an attempt which the men of this world derided as impracticable: but the Lord has made bare His Holy Arm; and some, of each of the Nations among whom our Missions are established, have seen his Salvation;—and we thank God, and take courage.

To have found men, far removed from direct controul, disinterestedly and faithfully labouring year after year, approving themselves to God, and, in the fruit of their labours, manifesting their fidelity to their engagements, again calls us to thank God, and take courage.

Had a human scheme with such extended ramifications been carried on by Agents who, without prospect of pecuniary recompence or worldly glory, were merely to have their subsistence for their work, it would have come to nought long ago. But God has sustained His servants; the work has been steadily advancing; and has been proved to be His, by the effects already produced: and hence we gather the encouraging conclusion, that it cannot be overthrown.

But, while the Committee thus gratefully look back on the past, they cannot but express their conviction, that the efforts yet made are inexpressibly feeble, compared with the magnitude of the object, and with the means of the Protestant Churches in general, and our own in particular. Far more is spent, in our own Country, in vain pleasure or mere luxury, which might easily be dispensed with, or indulgences which are injurious, than is raised, by all the Religious Societies of the Protestant World put together, for the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ. A comparison of the sums paid in articles of luxury, with the returns of all the Religious Societies put together, will shew how much more the lovers of pleasure do for vain indulgence, than the lovers of God do for His Glory and the salvation of man.

The Committee have found it requisite, wherever they have been able—as in North and South India, Ceylon, and the West Indies—to limit the sum which they expend on a particular Mission. The Expenditure being found to exceed the Income, they have felt that a Christian Society is no more justified than private individuals in running into debt, and, by so doing, exposing the Society's operations to the greatest risk and embarrassment. But the effect of thus restricting the expenditure has been, to cramp those operations, and to obstruct that breaking forth on the right hand and on the left, which is the great privilege of the Church of Christ. They place this subject on the conscience of every friend of Missions. For themselves, they have had the accounts of the whole Expenditure submitted to the scrutiny of two Committees of Investigation, which examined it, throughout, with unwearied patience and labour: and they now confidently appeal to the Christian Church for more enlarged support. Christians now are not justified, and are not placing this matter on the right footing, in questioning Expenditure instead of enlarging Contributions—in raising light objections instead of pouring out their liberality. In a Cause so momentous as the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ, minor objections may be relinquished, so that we may but glorify His Name, and help to save those for whom He died.

The Church of God has yet, then, to be awakened to a more enlarged view of her noble privilege of extending herself through the earth. Long has the direction been given to her, Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of *thy habitations; spare not; lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes; but we have not adequately fulfilled the direction, and, therefore, have not received the fulness of joy which is yet in reserve for us. The dishonour put on our God by the idolatries of the Heathen, their present misery, the fearful danger of their immortal souls, the glory of Christ in their salvation, and the rich reward of turning many to righteousness—all call us to the most strenuous efforts in this Holy Cause. Nor is time to be lost: the present season is unparalleled in facilities and advantages: but the opportunity will not long continue; for our own lives are swiftly passing away; and this life is the only time given to us, for sending the Gospel to the Heathen, and helping thus to save them. The lives of the Heathen, also, are passing away. On ordinary calculations, Twenty Millions of the Heathen every year enter the eternal world, ignorant of God and of His Christ. The present generation will soon, then, be removed for ever. The season of unparalleled advantage, which we now enjoy, is likewise rapidly passing away. Let every friend of Missions, therefore, adopt the spirit of the Redeemer's declaration: *I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

APPENDIX I.

REGULATIONS OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY RELATIVE TO DISABLED MISSIONARIES, THEIR WIDOWS AND CHILDREN : SEPT. 14, 1829.

I. THAT the principle on which Missionaries, Catechists, and others connect themselves with the Society, is, that of giving up themselves and their time to the prosecution of its objects; receiving such a Salary, while connected with it, as may be found requisite to provide for their necessary expenses in prosecuting those objects at the Stations where they may be severally placed.

II. That, taking into consideration the principle on which the connection between the Missionary and the Society thus rests, the Committee recognise the following obligations on its part:—

1. To make such provision for the Missionary or Layman who may have become sick or disabled in the service of the Society, and during the continuance of such sickness or disability, (unless he be otherwise provided for,) as the circumstances of the case may, in the judgment of the Committee, require, and the funds of the Society enable them to afford;—respect being had, in making that provision, to the class to which the individual may belong.
2. To extend such aid to the Widow of a Missionary or Layman who may have died in the service of the Society, as the circumstances of the case, in either class, may, in the judgment of the Committee, require, and the funds of the Society enable them to afford;—unless she be otherwise provided for.
3. To render such aid in the education of the Children of a Missionary or Layman who may be still engaged or who may have died in the service of the Society, as the circumstances of the case may, in the judgment of the Committee, require, and the funds of the Society enable them to afford, till they attain the age of 15 years respectively, should they so long continue under circumstances to need such assistance;—respect, in affording that assistance, being had to the class to which the Parent may belong.

III. That it appears advisable to make that provision for Sick and Disabled Missionaries and Laymen, their Widows and Children, which is contemplated in the preceding Resolution, through the medium of a separate Fund, to be opened for that purpose; under such regulations, as to the rate and mode of its distribution, as the Committee may from time to time determine.

IV. That the said Fund be formed from the following sources:—

1. By the Grant of 500*l.* from the funds of the Society, to form the basis of the proposed Fund.
2. By an Annual Contribution from the funds of the Society; the amount of which shall be determined by the Committee for the time being:—reference being had, in fixing that amount, to the number of Individuals dependent on the Fund.
3. By Voluntary Contributions, from the Public at large, to this specific object.

V. That the proposed Fund shall be entirely under the charge and management of the Committee of the Society for the time being: and under no circumstances shall it be liable to be appropriated to any other object whatever.

APPENDIX II.

(See Page 32.)

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED FEB. 21, 1829, TO REVIEW THE EXPENDITURE AND FINANCES OF THE SOCIETY.

WE commenced our inquiry into the matters referred to us, by reading the Report of the Funds' Committee, appointed September 10th, 1827, to examine into the Receipts and Expenditure; which Report was referred to in the Printed Address, dated February 9th, 1829, submitted for consideration at the Meeting held at the Thatched-House Tavern.

The course of proceeding which that Committee adopted, in the prosecution of their labours, appears to have been judicious, and in every respect well calculated to render their investigation into the complex and extensive subjects referred to them satisfactory; and the examination, so far as it was then entered into, has facilitated, in some measure, the more extended inquiry into which we have felt it to be our duty to go. Approving, therefore, of the plan adopted by the former Committee, we began our investigation, by an inquiry into the Receipts of the Society.

Upon an accurate examination of the Receipts of the Society, under the different heads, as exhibited in the Tables appended to the Printed Address before alluded to, the Committee were led to apprehend that the Society's Income for the Year 1828-9 would fall considerably below its Expenditure. The result, however, has been much more satisfactory than was anticipated. The Account submitted by the Committee to the Meeting on the 21st of February necessarily exhibited the Receipts for the first Three Quarters only, the Accounts of the Society being made up to the 31st of March in each year. We cordially congratulate the friends of the Society, that, on closing those of the past year on the 31st of March last, the Receipts were found to have exceeded considerably the largest sum collected in any one year since the formation of the Society.

This result is, however, partly attributable to a different mode of making up the Society's Annual Accounts, which was adopted at the suggestion of the Funds' Sub-Committee of 1827, and which did not come fully into operation till last year; the effect of which was, that a considerably larger sum was thrown into the Receipts of the Year 1828-9 than the actual income of that year.

We concur in the observation contained in the Printed Address of the 9th of February 1829, "that the assistance received from a considerable number of the Contributors being Special Donations, in aid of the declared deficiency of the resources of the Society, cannot be expected to be annually repeated." The extent of this subsidiary aid it would be difficult to estimate with any degree of certainty. The apprehension in the minds of the Committee, that a diminution of the pecuniary resources of the Society might ensue, by the falling off of that part of the Income which is of a casual nature, induced them, as it appears, to draw the attention of the members to the state of its finances, with a view to avert the evil of pecuniary embarrassment.

We have confined the foregoing remarks to the Receipts on account of the General Fund, without reference to those on account of the Institution Building Fund, which last will be noticed in a subsequent part of our Report. We append a General Account of the Receipts of the Society for the last Eight Years: and now turn to the consideration of its Expenditure under the various branches; which, in conformity with the proceedings of the Sub-Committee of 1827, we class under the heads of "Domestic" and "Foreign;" commencing with the Domestic Expenditure.

In taking a review of this branch of the Society's Affairs, we referred to the Report of the Sub-Committee of 1827, to ascertain the first head of Expenditure noticed in that Report; and which we found to be that of the "Publications" of the Society. We will class these under the heads of

"Annual Report;"

"Missionary Register;"

"Quarterly and Monthly Papers;" &

"Miscellaneous Publications."

Annual Report.

With respect to the Annual Report, the Sub-Committee of 1827, for the purpose of reducing the expense of Printing, which, on an average of the three preceding years, amounted, for this Publication alone, to 1040*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.*, recommended that the Lists of Association Contributors should be printed in a smaller type, and in a more compressed form; not thinking it expedient to discontinue the publication of the Lists altogether. This appears to be the only alteration recommended by that Committee for the purpose of diminishing the expense of the Report; and we feel some difficulty in suggesting any plan by which a material reduction can be made: but, considering how important and desirable it is that every practicable means of economizing the Funds of the Society should be resorted to, we submit, that, by the following arrangement, a part of the expense might, in our opinion, be avoided. It can admit of no doubt, that some statement of the Proceedings, as well as of the Receipts and Expenditure of the Society, must be annually given to the Subscribers; and the only question to be considered is, whether any part of the matter at present introduced into the Report can be omitted, without producing a greater evil? This might, we think, be effected, by omitting, in future, those Extracts from the Foreign Correspondence which, as hereafter stated, it is proposed should be inserted in a separate Monthly Publication. With the same view, it may also be advisable, that 1000 Copies only of the Appendix and Lists of Subscribers should be printed; whereby the size of the work, and consequently the expense, would be considerably reduced.

Missionary Register.

The Missionary Register is the property of the Rev. Josiah Pratt. It will not be denied by those who have taken an interest in the progress of the Society, that, under Providence, its present prosperity is in no slight degree to be attributed to the manner in which that work has been conducted. The interest which it has excited in favour of Missions in general, while it has contributed much to the success of other Societies, has benefited, in a still greater degree, the Church Missionary Society; to promote the welfare of which it was originally undertaken. So long as Mr.

Pratt continued to hold the office of Secretary of the Society, an entire uniformity and harmony of action pervaded the whole system; as the union of the offices of Secretary of the Society and Editor of the Missionary Register in the same person precluded the recurrence of the slightest collision or inconvenience: but, in the year 1825, Mr. Pratt, finding the combined offices of Secretary of the Society, charged as it was with an immense increase of business, and Editor of the Register, too laborious, resigned the office of Secretary of the Society, much to the regret of the Committee and the Members of the Society generally.

It would have been desirable, that, at this juncture, the intimate union between the Society and the Editor of the Register should have ceased: and this no doubt would have been the course adopted, had the Committee been in the situation to deal with a person less qualified to be the Editor of the matter arising out of the Society's proceedings, or whose services in its cause had been less conspicuous and considerable than those of Mr. Pratt: for, upon the most obvious grounds of convenience, consistency, and propriety, it is essential that the whole of the information connected with the affairs of the Society should emanate directly and officially from the Committee. This is a course of proceeding due to the Public, and nothing more than fair toward those on whom the responsibility of the administration of the affairs of the Society necessarily devolves.

The motives which dictated a different course on the part of the Committee may be supposed to have been—

1. To secure the valuable services of Mr. Pratt in connection with the Society.

2. To continue the circulation of the Missionary Register, for the purpose of keeping up a Missionary Spirit in the minds of the British Public.

Considering, however, the present arrangement objectionable, for the reasons already detailed, we recommend that the following plan should be adopted, instead of it:—

1. That the Monthly Paper now circulated by the Society should cease to be issued; and that, in lieu thereof, a Publication, on a more extended scale, under the title of the "Church Missionary Record," or some other appropriate name, should be circulated, embracing the details of the Society's Proceedings; such Publication to be prepared by the Secretaries, under the direction of the Committee, and to issue immediately and officially from the Society.

2. That the Editor of the Missionary Register, taking his matter from the Society's Publication, may, if he thinks proper, convey this intelligence to the Public, in connection with the other varied information contained in the Missionary Register, in any form he chooses.

Such a Publication as the proposed Record would communicate full, early, and authentic intelligence of the Society's Proceedings; and for that reason would, most probably, obtain a preference over the Missionary Register, and would be a less charge on the Funds of the Society than the Missionary Register. Such Collectors of One Shilling per week and upward as might be disposed to receive the Record instead of the Register would contribute to the relief of the Society's Funds. We do not, however, propose to make this compulsory; but leave it to the Contributors themselves to decide which Publication they will receive.

We would further suggest, that the Secretaries of the respective Associations should be requested to ascertain and inform the Committee, with as much accuracy as practicable, the following particulars, for the future government of the Officers of the Society in the issue of its Publications:—

1. The number of Collectors of One Shilling per week, who are inclined to receive the proposed Publication in the place of the Missionary Register.

2. The number of such Collectors who may prefer to continue to receive the Register.

Even should the plan now proposed be attended on the whole with an increase of expense, which we are given to understand is not likely to be the case, still we should feel not the less disposed to recommend its adoption; considering sound principle of too high a value to be estimated merely by pecuniary considerations. It is evident, that to prepare and superintend such a work as that which it is intended to substitute for the Missionary Register, must occupy a large portion of the time of the Editor of it, and necessarily confine him in London: and as this duty must devolve on one of the present Secretaries, it will be requisite to provide otherwise for the services which he now renders, in visiting the Associations in different parts of the kingdom. Supposing this arrangement to take effect, the connection which will then subsist between Mr. Pratt and the Society will rest on the footing, that the Society will be entitled to receive from Mr. Pratt as many of the copies of the Missionary Register, at the trade price, as may be requisite to supply those Collectors who shall prefer that Publication.

Miscellaneous Publications.

With respect to the other Publications, we need only observe, that we are not prepared to say that the amount has been otherwise than properly and wisely expended.

It cannot be doubted, that, in proportion as a knowledge of the spiritual wants of mankind is diffused amongst those who possess the blessings of the Gospel, which can only be effected through the medium of the Press, there will be an enlargement of that Christian Charity, on which alone, under God, the Society can look for steady and permanent support. We therefore entirely concur in the following observations of the Committee, addressed to the Members in December 1827:—

“The object to be kept in view, in the issue of Publications by the Society, is, the maintenance and extension of an intelligent zeal in its support; and one general rule of just economy should therefore govern all expenditure on this head—that such expense should be incurred in Publications, and, so far as that can be accomplished, such expense only, as will fully answer the end: while a liberal distribution of Publications must not degenerate into profusion, economy must not degenerate into that parsimony which will defeat its own design.” And towards the conclusion of the Address, the Committee remark, “That they must depend very much on the kindness of the Secretaries of the respective Associations for carrying the Regulations into effect, by which economy may be introduced into this branch of the Society's Expenditure, by their zealous co-operation to make the most economical and yet efficient use of its Publications.

The Islington Institution.

The great importance of the Islington Institution, in reference to the future welfare of the Society, imposed on us the duty of examining, with particular care, every circumstance connected with it.

In investigating the Home Expenditure of the Society, our notice was particularly drawn to that of the Institution, a detailed account of which was submitted to us. In immediate connection with this, we were led to consider the principles on which this Institution had been formed; the character and situation of the building; the system of education adopted within its walls; and the whole of the administration of its affairs.

With regard to the proximity of the Institution to London, objections were urged by some Members of the Committee; but it was the opinion of a majority of the Members, that the inconveniences arising from this cause are either overrated, or may be, in a great measure, remedied by the introduction of a different system of management; and that it would not now, therefore, be advisable to remove the Institution to a greater distance from the Metropolis.

On the kind of Education best adapted to qualify a Missionary for his labours there was also a difference of opinion; some thinking that, on the present system, human learning is too much considered; but all admitting that spiritual endowments, self-devotion, and Missionary zeal, are the primary qualifications, compared with which talents and learning must be considered of very inferior moment. We cannot speak too strongly of the eminent talents and acquirements of the Individual now at the head of the Institution, which, combined with unquestionable piety and theological erudition, qualify him for the highest station in any of the seats of learning in this kingdom. But, without casting the slightest reflection on the Principal, who had to administer a system marked out for him, and who, therefore, cannot be considered responsible for its defects, it is an opinion which we are bound to give without reserve, that the system hitherto pursued in the Institution does not appear to us, as far as we have been able to arrive at a correct judgment on the case, to be the best fitted to secure the first and most important qualifications of a Missionary, already described.

It would, in our opinion, be preferable that the Institution should be assimilated to, and put more upon the footing of a family, the members of which have given themselves up to some great work. The head of such an Institution should, we think, be distinct from the person employed to give instruction in the subordinate branches of human learning; and should regard the Students as his children, maintaining with them, at all times, an unreserved and familiar intercourse. Such a community, living in the exercise of mutual love, in which the Spirit of the great Head of the Church shall be found to dwell richly, and where, as has been emphatically expressed by the Rev. T. Blumhardt in speaking of the Institution at Bâle, "Not Moses, but Christ—not the Law, but the Gospel reigns," may be expected to receive, in a peculiar manner, a blessing from the Lord; and to produce and send forth Labourers into the vineyard, fitted for their arduous duties.

We must also avow our opinion, influenced, we trust, only by that general knowledge of the frailty of human nature derived from experience, that the comforts and advantages incident to a residence in the Institution may, in some instances, operate in an undue degree on the minds of Candidates.

In various ways, an individual might find his temporal condition materially improved; and the conveniences necessarily incident to a residence in the Institution superior to those which he had previously enjoyed, or which he had the prospect of acquiring in the course of life otherwise open to him. The circumstance, also, that admission to Holy Orders in the Church of England raises such an individual to a rank considerably superior to that in which he formerly moved, or which he would otherwise attain; and the consideration, that the Missionary receives from the Society some provision for himself, if disabled by sickness, and for his Widow or Children, if he should leave either at his decease, may operate unperceived on the mind of a Candidate, and render his motives less pure than they ought to be in aspiring to the Missionary Office. We do not doubt that there are many on whom the temporal advantages adverted to do not operate in any improper degree; but, in order to guard as much as possible against this danger, the Committee would, we think, do well to direct their attention, in the selection of Candidates, to that class of persons on whom, from their previous condition in life, motives of a secular nature would be least likely to exert an undue influence. In this view, we cannot forbear from suggesting the advantages which would result from obtaining Missionary Candidates from among the sons of Clergymen of the Church of England possessing suitable qualifications for the work. We cannot, however, anticipate such Candidates from this quarter, unless the Clergy themselves feel the importance of the object, and train up some of their children, from their early youth, with a view to the work of the Ministry among the Heathen.

It is not to be denied, that, at present, a great deadness with regard to Missionary services prevails. The number of young men duly qualified, in point of piety, Missionary spirit, learning, and disinterestedness, to become Ambassadors for Christ among the Heathen, is very small; and hence arises one main difficulty of the Committee in carrying into effect the objects of the Society. It would, indeed, be a most encouraging circumstance, could we see persons ready to relinquish wealth, preferment, reputation, and comfort, for the sake of Christ and His Gospel; presenting their bodies a living sacrifice, and counting all other things but loss that they may preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

The absence of any considerable number of Candidates of this order imposes on the Committee of Correspondence and the Principal of the Institution the necessity of great caution and circumspection in the selection of Candidates, and of a long period of probation in the Institution, in order that the character of every individual may be thoroughly known before he is sent on his Mission: for no greater injury can befall the Society, or more serious evil the Cause it is established to support, than that any of its Missionaries should turn out unworthy of, or unfit for, his office. The pecuniary loss to the Society arising from such a circumstance, however considerable, would be but trivial, in comparison of that moral evil, both at home and abroad, which would be the consequence.

In regard, also, to the expense of the Institution, a revision and reduction of it has become necessary, in consequence of the determination of the Committee to limit the number of Students to Twenty. Upon the propriety of such a reduction we do not think ourselves called on to pronounce any opinion; but, if the number be thus limited, alterations may, we apprehend, be made in the present establishment of the Institution, which will, in some measure, reduce its expense. We therefore recommend that the House now occupied by the Principal should be disposed of; and that the Principal occupy that house now appropriated to the Tutor, who may, in future, be accommodated in some other part of the building, or in the neighbourhood of the Institution.

In reference to the Institution Building Fund, we found that the total amount received on that account, to March 31, 1829, was 8739*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* The total sum expended, for the three Purchases made at Islington, and the charges incident thereto; for the various alterations and repairs in the Old Buildings; for the erection of the New Buildings and Garden Walls; for levelling, gravelling, and planting the ground, &c. and for the Sewer in College Street, amounted to about 19,000*l.* The expenditure of a portion of this large amount was occasioned by a change of plans in the Committee; and would, therefore, have been saved, if the course finally taken had been originally adopted, or that at first contemplated adhered to. It is also requisite to explain, that the conditions on which the two pieces of ground abutting on College Street were purchased of Mr. Cubitt obliged the Committee to raise a wall on that frontage, not only much more expensive than would otherwise have been erected, but with an ornamental character about it, which, we understand, they would have been glad to avoid. This condition was imposed by Mr. Cubitt, to protect the value of the other part of his property in College Street, the whole of the ground on both sides of it belonging to him; and was yielded to by the Committee, in order to acquire a space of ground connected with the Institution for air and exercise.

We cannot conclude this part of our Report without mentioning, that, to aid us in forming a right judgment on the several points connected with the Institution, we have, in our deliberations, availed ourselves of the practical knowledge of the Rev. Principal, and of the advice and assistance of some of the best-informed and most attached friends of the Society, who were not Members of this Committee.

Sick and Disabled Missionaries, their Widows, and Children.

We have abstained from entering on the consideration of the mode to be adopted in providing for "Sick and Disabled Missionaries, their Widows, and Children," as we find that that very important question has been referred to another Committee.

The expenses, however, of Missionaries returning to this country seem to fall within our province. In reference to these, it will be seen, by the Balance Sheets appended to the Annual Reports, that the amount is rapidly augmenting. This increase will, it is hoped, be in some measure retarded, so far as relates to the Society's Missionaries in India and Ceylon, by the establishment for Invalid Missionaries which has been formed on the Nilgherry Hills, in the Presidency of Madras. Considering the heavy charge incurred by a voyage to this Country, and the return voyage to India, we earnestly recommend that, wherever practicable, the experiment may be made of a residence on the Nilgherry Hills, or of a sea voyage, before an Invalid Missionary returns home; as, should either of these ultimately prove efficacious, under the blessing of God, for the restoration of the Missionary's health, not only will a considerable portion of the Society's Funds be set at liberty for the advancement of Missionary Operations, but the Missionary will, after recovery, be able to return more easily and expeditiously to his labours.

Considerable expense has also been incurred on account of the Native Servants by whom some Missionaries have been accompanied. Cases may doubtless occur, in which the attention of a servant may be necessary; but when the expense involved in such a proceeding is considered, it is obvious that it ought to be resorted to only in cases of real necessity. We therefore recommend that no Missionary should be at liberty to bring home a servant at the expense of the Society, unless with the sanction of the Committee, or its Representatives in the Mission to which he or she may be attached.

We have also had our attention directed to the expense which has, in some cases, arisen from Missionaries, on their return from abroad, landing on the southern coast, at a great distance from London; and recommend that they should continue on board till the arrival of the vessel at Gravesend, unless there be some special reason to the contrary.

House and Office Expenses and Salaries.

In examining the House and Office Expenses, we are of opinion that they have been conducted on a scale of great moderation and economy.

The salaries of the Clerks are not larger than they ought to be.

The salary of Mr. Coates, the Assistant Secretary, is 200*l.* per annum. He lives in the Society's House in Salisbury Square, and coals and candles are allowed him.

Mr. Coates did not intimate any wish that his salary should be increased; but we feel it our duty to state, that, in our opinion, this is not adequate remuneration for a person on whom so large a portion of labour and responsibility rests. We therefore recommend, that an addition of 100*l.* per annum should be made to his salary; and that he shall be denominated "Secretary," instead of "Assistant Secretary." This arrangement has the cordial concurrence of the present Secretaries.

The necessary expenses for Painting, Papering, &c. at the House in Salisbury Square have been considerable during the last two years; as nothing of this kind had been previously done, in a great part of the house, for a long period. It is not likely that these will recur, to any large amount, for some years.

Incidentals.

By the 7th Law of the Society, it is provided, that notice shall be given to each Subscriber, of every General Meeting. Much time, as well as some money, is expended in preparing, directing, and circulating these Notices; and, as it seems no longer necessary to continue the practice of sending them, we recommend that the Law should be repealed.

Association Expenses.

The Expenses of Associations next engaged our attention. These may be considered under two heads: 1st, Those incurred by the Parent Committee; and 2dly, Those incurred by the Associations in their local proceedings.

1. With regard to those contracted by the Parent Committee, we have seen no reason to suppose that they have amounted to a larger sum than was necessary. They have increased in the last year; but that increase has principally arisen from the salary of the Visiting Secretary, which has been charged to this head, as his services are exclusively devoted to the Associations. A further increase under this head must also be anticipated, from the additional Agents which it may be requisite to engage, in order duly to visit and organize the various Associations.

2. In reference to the expenses incurred by the Associations in their several districts, the result of our inquiries, so far as we had the means of pursuing them, are very striking.

In some Associations in and near London, the whole expense is covered at the rate of 2s. 6d. in the 100l.

In others, it amounts to 20l. in the 100l.

In some Associations of Towns and Cities, the whole expense is covered at the rate of 5s. in the 100l.

In others, it amounts to 20l. 10s. in the 100l.

In some County Associations, the whole expense is covered at the rate of 17s. 6d. in the 100l.

In others, it amounts to 13l. 10s. in the 100l.

Some Associations about London exceed others in point of expense more than 160 fold.

Some Associations in Cities and Towns exceed others in point of expense more than 80 fold.

Some Associations in Counties exceed others in point of expense nearly 16 fold.

It is difficult to state precisely the total amount of this branch of Association Expenses; because many of the Branches remit to the Associations, with which they are connected, only the net balance; without specifying the cost which they have incurred locally in its collection.

It appears, however, from an examination of the Association Reports in the Society's Office, that, in England, one year's expense, as reported, reaches 1524l. 3s. 9d.; to which must be added, for the reason just stated, a further, and probably not inconsiderable sum.

It is not to be expected that all Associations can be reduced to the same rate of expenditure. We have reason to know, that in some of the cases where the rate is low, that circumstance has been occasioned by the liberality of Individuals, in taking upon themselves expenses which, in other instances, are necessarily defrayed by the Associations. On the other hand, we have reason to believe that there are cases where the high rate has been occasioned by local circumstances which warranted the expenses incurred. We therefore only presume to say, and every friend of Missions will unite in the desire, that all unnecessary expense should be scrupulously avoided; and that economy, necessary in every branch of our outlay, is no where more essential than at home. If we wish our Missionaries, who are toiling hard, and suffering much in their fields of labour, to exercise self-denial, and carefully to husband the resources supplied by this Country, we must begin by exhibiting an example of rigid frugality in our domestic expenditure.

One source of Association Expenditure is, the publication of their Local Reports. It is in the contemplation of the Parent Committee, to prepare and print an Abstract of their own Report. This might advantageously form the substance of the Reports of Associations; and any information of local interest, such as the Balance Sheet, might be subjoined.

We cannot quit this head of expense, rising as it does so very high, and characterized by such a wide variation in its amount, without recommending that a Letter should be addressed to the several Associations, bringing the subject distinctly under their view.

It having been stated to us, that the Society had derived much advantage, in some districts, from the kindness of Gentlemen in providing conveyances for the Deputation visiting their neighbourhood, we cannot forbear to point out the circumstance to the friends of the Society throughout the country; as, by an extension of the practice, where the convenience of Individuals will admit of their aiding the objects of the Society in this way, much expense would be saved.

Adverting to the importance of maintaining an intimate connection between the Parent Committee and the Committees of Associations throughout the Country, we recommend that the Visiting Secretaries should, on their visits to the Associations, confer with their respective Committees, in order to concert such measures as may enable them to carry into effect the objects of their formation in the most efficient manner, and at the lowest rate of expense.

Libraries, Postage, and Advertisements.

Under the several heads of "Books for Libraries," "Postage," and "Advertisements," the expenditure appeared to be no more than is requisite for duly carrying on the objects of the Society.

Bâle Institution.

We include the Bâle Institution under the head of "Domestic Expenditure," since it relates wholly to the preparation of Missionaries for their work.

By the arrangement subsisting with the Bâle Institution, it is proposed to obtain from thence a regular supply "of such Missionaries as may be duly qualified for those spheres of labour in which it is found expedient, or where it may hereafter be found so, to engage the services of the Continental Churches." (See 22d Report, p. 52.)

The Society has already derived much advantage from its connection with the Bâle Institution; having received from thence many faithful Labourers, who have been prepared for their work at a much less cost than those educated in this country, in consequence of the lower rate of the necessaries of life on the Continent, and the different mode of living which prevails there.

Foreign Expenditure.

We now draw the attention of the Committee to the Society's Foreign Expenditure: and, in the first instance, to that branch of it which relates to its labours in the East.

NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

To the Committee of the Calcutta Auxiliary Society the direction of the Society's affairs in the North-India Mission is confided, both with reference to the expenditure and the proceedings of the Missionaries.

It must be obvious, that, at the distance of many thousand miles, the Parent Committee can act much less effectively, by their own direct agency, in regulating the proceedings of the Missionaries, than through the medium of a body of pious friends on the spot, possessing all that local information which is so necessary to the well-being of the Mission. We are of opinion, that this trust could not possibly have been delegated to persons more justly entitled to the confidence of the Christian Public, or to persons better qualified for the performance of such duties, than the Members of the Auxiliary Committee; who have gratuitously devoted their time and attention to the objects of the Society, and who, from their residence in the Country, are so competent to judge rightly upon all matters connected with its affairs.

At the same time it will be apparent, that since nearly the whole of the pecuniary means by which this Mission has been, and still continues to be supported, is drawn from this Country, the most ample details of the appropriation of that money, no less than of the proceedings of the Missionaries, should be transmitted to the Parent Committee. Circumstances have hitherto prevented this from being done in the form and to the extent which is requisite; and we therefore recommend, that the Parent Committee should require the most regular and accurate Accounts of all the Receipts and Expenditure of the Mission; as the Public, from whom the funds are derived, expect, and have a right to know, both the amount and mode of the expenditure, as well as its results; which should be exhibited in the simple form of a perfect mercantile account.

On examining the Salaries and allowances to the Missionaries, we do not think that they are disproportionately high; nor are we of opinion that any saving can be made in the expense of outfit and passage-money of the Missionaries to India.

The insufficiency of the Accounts hitherto sent home has prevented us from ascertaining, with any thing like precision, the cost of the Buildings erected at the different Stations. The expense incurred on this account has been considerable. Whether, in every instance, it has been judicious, may be open to doubt; but at Mirzapore, where the principal establishment has been formed, it appears that the land and buildings are, at this time, worth considerably more than they actually cost. We understand that it is not in contemplation to cause any addition to be made to the Buildings at the Stations now occupied: it will, therefore, be chiefly the ordinary repairs of the Buildings already erected that will call for further expense. We recommend that plans of the different plots of ground and buildings erected thereon, together with an estimate of the value of the same, should be procured, and deposited in the Society's Office here. We also recommend, that no new buildings, or considerable addition to those already constructed, should be made without the previous sanction of the Parent Committee.

Another item of expense in the North-India Mission is the Printing Establishment. Whether it be advisable or not to continue the use of a private Press, is a question on which a difference of opinion may exist; but of the utility of this appendage to the Mission, more particularly in the early period of Missions to India, no doubt can be entertained.

The imperfect nature of the accounts transmitted from India was noticed by the Funds' Sub-Committee of 1827; and measures were taken by them to remedy this serious inconvenience. They state in their Report:—"On examining the expenses of this Mission [the North-India Mission] the Sub-Committee found that the Office did not supply the means of furnishing so full a statement of the particulars of those expenses, or of the application of supplies sent out, as they deem requisite, in order to place the subject on an entirely satisfactory footing."

The Sub-Committee add:—"The extent to which the Society's Expenditure has grown, with the enlargement and increase of its Missions, renders it imperative upon the Committee to place the business of the Society upon such a footing, as to secure full and regular accounts of its Property and Expenditure. Under this impression, the Sub-Committee framed a set of Regulations applicable to the subject, which have since received the sanction of the Committee; and which will, they trust, attain the object in view, in a manner most consistent with the convenience of those friends to whose voluntary assistance the Society is so much indebted." In consequence of that Report, the Secretaries wrote to the Representatives of the Society in India, to urge the necessity of regular and distinct Accounts; and, with a view to facilitate the preparation and transmission of them, sent out Printed Tabular Forms, for the Calcutta Committee, and the Missionaries at the different Stations, to fill up. The Pecuniary Accounts required are of so simple a nature, and the Printed Forms and Instructions so explicit, that very little trouble or knowledge of Accounts would be necessary to prepare them.

The Secretaries of the Society inform us, that, in consequence of these proceedings, they are in expectation of soon receiving from Calcutta the Printed Forms properly filled up; which, if obtained, will comprise all the information on this head that can be desired.

MADRAS AND SOUTH INDIA-MISSION.

The affairs of the Society in this Mission are conducted by a Corresponding Committee in Madras, to whom is delegated the same authority, in reference to the Society's Missions in the Madras Presidency, as to the Calcutta Auxiliary Committee, in reference to those in the Presidency of Bengal.

The remarks which we have made on the Accounts transmitted from Calcutta apply, to a considerable extent, to those transmitted from Madras. In consequence of this incompleteness of the Accounts sent home, we have been precluded from examining with precision the propriety of the Expenditure, under the different heads, at the several Stations of the Mission.

The measures adopted to obtain from the North-India Mission the description of Accounts required were also applied by the Funds' Sub-Committee to the South-India Mission. They also suggested the appointment, both at Calcutta and Madras, of a Lay Assistant-Secretary, with a salary, in order to secure this important object, and to attend generally to the secular affairs of the Mission. The result of these measures has not yet been ascertained.

The rate of the Missionaries' Salaries and Allowances appear to be on rather a lower scale than those in the North-India Mission, and consequently not to be more than necessary.

BOMBAY AND WEST-INDIA.

This has hitherto been a very limited sphere of Missionary Operations; and the expenditure, in consequence, comparatively small. We recommend that the same system of keeping and rendering Accounts should be introduced to this Mission as that already recommended with regard to the North-and South-India Missions. The affairs of the Society here are administered by an Auxiliary Committee.

CEYLON.

The Committee not having the means of forming a Corresponding Committee, or an Auxiliary Society, in this Island, the concerns of the Mission are managed by the Missionaries themselves, under the general superintendence of the Rev. Samuel Lambrick, the Senior Missionary.

In prosecution of this object, the Missionaries hold an Annual Meeting, to which a Report is made from each Station, and its Cash Account submitted; and the general concerns of the Mission are considered and decided on, subject to the sanction of the Parent Committee.

The Accounts transmitted from this Mission partake of that incompleteness which has already been adverted to in the North and South-India Missions, and to which the same remedy was applied by the Funds' Sub-Committee as to those.

The Missionaries' Salaries appear to be no higher than necessary. Some suggestions were made by the Funds' Sub-Committee on a portion of the Incidental Expenditure of this Mission, the adoption of which will be attended with some saving to the Society, though not, we conceive, to any considerable extent.

The Bills for the expenses of this Mission are drawn by the Rev. Samuel Lambrick, under the sanction of a Resolution of the Parent Committee. This plan was adopted in order to take advantage of the most favourable opportunity for selling the Society's Bills at Colombo, in the vicinity of which Mr. Lambrick is situated; and we have every reason to believe that it has produced the beneficial effects which were contemplated, and that the trust reposed in Mr. Lambrick has been faithfully discharged. Adverting, however, to the general principles by which all considerable expenditure ought to be governed, we recommend that, in future, all Bills on account of the Mission be drawn either at the Annual Meeting of the Missionaries above mentioned, or at a Meeting of the Missionaries at the Cotta Station convened for that purpose; and that each Bill be signed by the Chairman and two other Missionaries present, of whom Mr. Lambrick be one.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

The Parent Committee not having the means of forming a Corresponding Committee in Sierra Leone, the affairs of the West-Africa Mission are regulated by the Missionaries themselves, who hold Quarterly Meetings for that purpose. A Report is presented by each Missionary and Catechist to the Quarterly Meeting, detailing his proceedings for the preceding Quarter; and Bills are drawn for the salaries and contingent expenses of the Mission, which require the attestation of the Chairman for their sanction.

The Regulations framed by the Funds' Sub-Committee of 1827, for obtaining full returns of Expenditure &c. for each Mission, have already come into operation in Sierra Leone. The Committee are now enabled to present a complete analysis of the expenses of this Mission, by which it appears that they are judiciously and economically conducted.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

The affairs of this Mission are carried on under the general superintendence of the Rev. W. Jowett, who is resident at Malta. The Printing Establishment at that place, which is carried on under the direction of Mr. Jowett and the Rev. C. F. Schlienz, enters very largely into the operations of this Mission; the agency of the Press being peculiarly adapted, at the present season, to the diffusion of Christian Knowledge in the Countries around the Mediterranean.

Three Missionaries of the Society are employed in Greece and Asia Minor; three in Egypt; and two, who are destined for Abyssinia, are waiting in Egypt for a favourable opportunity of entering that country.

In consequence of the migratory circumstances of most of the Individuals connected with this Mission, no fixed salaries have been assigned. This principle appears to be appropriate to the circumstances of the Mission; and the total expense incurred for the maintenance of the Missionaries is moderate; though the Accounts rendered are, in some parts, not sufficiently detailed and specific to enable us to form an accurate judgment of the propriety of particular charges. A Form for keeping the Accounts has been prepared for the guidance of the Missionaries, which will, we trust, supply this deficiency.

AUSTRALASIA MISSION.

The operations of the Society in this Mission are principally confined to the Island of New Zealand. Its affairs are superintended by a Corresponding Committee in New South Wales, of which the Rev. Samuel Marsden is the President.

The concerns of the Mission are carried on in New Zealand by Quarterly Meetings of the Missionaries; which Meetings are regulated in much the same manner as those above mentioned in Sierra Leone.

The Society's Establishment on this Island consists of four Clergymen and ten Lay Assistants. They are provided for by a money salary for their clothes and personal expenses, and by rations from a common stock, at a fixed amount, for their maintenance, and for barter with the Natives for provisions, labour, &c. The cost thus incurred for the support of the Missionaries and their families is moderate; but the contingent expenses, for the erection of Buildings, maintaining an intercourse with New South-Wales, &c., have unavoidably been very considerable. The account of these expenses has not hitherto been rendered with that fulness and particularity which is requisite. The measures taken by the Funds' Sub-Committee in 1827, with some additional ones which we have suggested, will, we trust, in future, put the Committee in possession of the details which are necessary to enable them intelligently to judge of and controul this large branch of the Society's Expenditure.

One considerable item in that Expenditure is the support of a Schooner of about 100 tons burthen, for maintaining an intercourse between the Mission and New South-Wales, and for visiting the Coast of New Zealand for the furtherance of the objects of the Mission, and for obtaining supplies of provisions, &c. from the Natives. The "Herald" Schooner, built on the island, under the direction of the Rev. Henry Williams, was wrecked May 1828, in entering the Shukeanga River. The vessel having been insured, the pecuniary loss to the Society has been comparatively light; but by this disastrous event the Mission has been subjected to considerable inconvenience. We are glad to learn that the Committee are taking measures to replace the "Herald" by the purchase of a suitable vessel in this Country, as we consider such a vessel essential at present to the well-being of the Mission.

WEST-INDIES MISSION.

The Society's operations in this Mission have hitherto been confined to the employment of Catechists and Schoolmasters in different parts of the West Indies.

Antigua.

Extensive Schools were formed in this island under the direction and superintendence of Mr. William Dawes. On the 31st of December 1824, the number of persons under instruction amounted to 2002: since that period the number has rapidly declined, until, at the commencement of the present year, it amounted to no more than 39. This diminution of the number of Scholars is to be chiefly attributed to the operation of the system for granting Licences for Catechists introduced into the Diocese by the Bishop of Barbadoes. This system, however well intended by his Lordship, and adopted no doubt upon principle, was attended, practically, with the results above mentioned, in consequence of the peculiar situation of the Society's Schools in Antigua. These Schools were much indebted for their efficiency to the labours of Teachers not exclusively connected with the Established Church, and who were separated from the Society in consequence of feeling a conscientious objection to receive a Catechist's Licence on the terms prescribed by the Bishop's Regulations. The Committee not being able to engage duly-qualified Teachers who were Members of the Established Church, did not think themselves justified in continuing an expense which was followed by no adequate return, and have therefore, though with deep regret, discontinued the operations of the Society in this island.

Jamaica.

The affairs of the Society on this island are conducted by the Committee of an Auxiliary Society, which was formed on the 5th of March 1828. Three of the Catechists are placed on the Properties of Gentlemen who bore half the expense of their Outfit and Passage Money, and who pay half their salary. The sum hitherto expended on Missionary Labour in this island has been inconsiderable; but as there is the prospect of advantageously extending the sphere of operations, an increase of expenditure in this quarter is to be anticipated.

Demerara, and Essequibo.

One Catechist is employed by the Society in each of these Settlements: the one in Demerara is supported entirely by the Society. In Essequibo, one moiety of the expense is borne by the Society, and the other by parties connected with an Estate in the Colony, as in the cases referred to in Jamaica.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

In this Mission there are two Missionaries and one Catechist. The Missionaries are also Chaplains of the Hudson's-Bay Company, and receive their salary partly from the Company and partly from the Society. The prospects of the Mission are encouraging.

We saw no reason to suppose that there has been any wasteful expenditure in the Mission; but the incompleteness of the Accounts as to its application to specific objects, and the delay in the transmission of a portion of them, precluded us in this, as in several other instances, from forming a correct judgment on the subject.

Upon the Foreign Expenditure generally, we beg to make the following observations:—So long as the pecuniary resources of the Society flow in without interruption, the cautions and guards which a reverse of circumstances render necessary are apt to be less heeded; and the lessons of adversity may therefore, if properly received, become salutary and beneficial.

It ought never to be out of the recollection of those entrusted with any part of the Society's Expenditure, that the funds raised for its support consist of the voluntary contributions of the Christian Community, and that no small proportion of them is derived from the poorest classes: it is therefore a sacred duty, that not one shilling of the money so subscribed should be needlessly expended; but the whole of it so applied, as best to promote the object for which it was contributed, viz. the promulgation of the glad tidings of Salvation to those regions where darkness covers the earth, and gross darkness the people.

In the ordinary affairs of life, and in all Mercantile and Banking Transactions, the utmost simplicity may be introduced into the most intricate and complex Accounts: and this is the point to which it is the duty of the Committee to endeavour to bring the Financial Transactions of the Society.

We do not altogether approve of the Printed Forms sent out by the Funds' Sub-Committee in 1827; considering them too complicated, and requiring details on some points unnecessary to be returned, which may have occasioned delay in making the Returns. There can be no better or more simple method of keeping and transmitting the various Accounts, nor any more effectual check upon improvident expenditure, than by requiring each Missionary to render to the Department advancing the money, whether it be a Committee or a single Missionary, a Monthly or Quarterly Account of his expenditure, accompanied with the vouchers for the payments made; so as regularly to discharge himself from all sums advanced or entrusted to him upon account, before any further moneys are advanced. Such Account should be accompanied by a statement of the number of Schools and Scholars at each Station; and nothing would then be wanting to satisfy the most rigid inquiry. These Accounts should be regularly transmitted to the Parent Committee; together with a General Account, supported by vouchers, of all the Receipts and Expenditure of the Mission, and a Return of the Establishment in all its parts. All the requisite information would be thus afforded, and a perfect uniformity of Accounts kept up in all the Missions.

Conclusion.

In drawing our Report to a close, we would remark, that the usefulness of our Examination has been greatly diminished by the want of complete details of the Foreign Expenditure, properly systematized. The result of the measures adopted by the Funds' Sub-Committee of 1827 above referred to, so far as the operation of them has been developed, is satisfactory; but sufficient time has not elapsed, to admit of receiving the expected Returns from the more-distant Missions.

The want of these details has precluded us from distinctly ascertaining all the items which constitute the Total of Expenditure in several of the Missions; and we are unable therefore to decide, with certainty, whether the whole of the Foreign Operations of the Society have been conducted on the lowest practicable scale of expense.

There are other inconveniences, also, springing from the absence of full details of the Foreign Expenditure. We have not been able to examine it, item by item, so as to form a distinct judgment on each; neither have we been able to compare the expenses of one year with the expenses of another year, and thus to mark the growth or decrease of cost under each head.

The same cause has prevented us from instituting a comparison between the expenditure on one field of action with the expenditure on another field, in many respects similarly circumstanced. It is obvious, that a comparison of this nature would help to guide the Committee, in pressing forward in one sphere of exertion, or in restraining their operations in another. The Committee, in fact, can arrive at no accurate judgment, so far as that judgment is to be grounded on pecuniary considerations, whether any given scheme of operations ought to be enlarged or reduced, unless they know precisely the several objects to which the whole of the sums expended have been applied.

An illustration of the advantage to be derived from such a dissection of Accounts as exhibits the cost incurred under each head may be gathered from some of the suggestions which we have offered on part of the Home Expenditure. There, the detail of the expenditure shewed, that the practice of Missionaries bringing servants from India, and landing on the southern coast of England, occasioned a cost amounting, between them, in the last year, to more than 160*l*. Arriving at this fact, we have recommended the adoption of Regulations by which it is probable that an annual saving of some amount will be effected. Had these expenses formed only a part of an undissected mass, it would have been out of our power to form any opinion respecting their propriety, much less to point out a remedy.

Again: we know that while some of our Associations at home are conducted at a very trifling expense, others cost 160 times as much.

We also perceive that the expenses on account of Sick and Disabled Missionaries, their Widows and Children, have been gradually increasing in amount; and rose, in the last year, to the sum of 3077*l*. This fact is a warning to the Society; and proves, that either a provision must now be made for this species of cost; or that, at no very distant day, the Society will be under the necessity of reducing its operations abroad, in order to support Disabled Missionaries and their Families.

We hope that it is not necessary to argue this point further. We are deeply impressed with the necessity of having the whole Expenditure of the Society exhibited in a form so clear and simple, that any person may at once perceive the amount of each head of charge; ascertain, year by year, any increase or diminution; and be placed in a situation to form a judgment, so far as the application of money is concerned, whether the results of any branch of the Society's Operations are equivalent to the sum expended on it. In short, we are persuaded that we are consulting the real interests of the Society in recommending that the means should be afforded of closely watching the whole and each part of the general expense. We have drawn out a skeleton of such an Account, which will, we conceive, accomplish the objects we have now stated. Attaching, as we do, the last importance to the principle of keeping the Accounts in such a mode as shall exhibit annually, in detail and in comparison, each head of Expenditure, we recommend, in the most earnest manner, that no pains may be spared in obtaining the necessary documents from each Mission, so as to enable the Committee completely to effect this object. We also earnestly hope that our friends abroad will be impressed, as deeply as ourselves, with the necessity of furnishing us with the means of accomplishing the object proposed. We are aware of the situation in which many of those friends are placed; and fully concur in what is stated by the Funds' Sub-Committee of 1827, in their Report on the North-India Mission:—"That very important co-operation, which has so materially promoted the objects of the Society in this and its other India Missions, is afforded voluntarily by Gentlemen who are deeply and extensively engaged in the discharge of duties which attach to their several professions and employments, while their services are constantly liable to interruption from sickness and change of station, and terminate on their return home, after a limited residence in India. Under these circumstances, the Committee owe a large debt of gratitude to the friends who have so kindly charged themselves with the arrangement of the Society's affairs in India." It is possible that the attainment of our object may impose on these friends some addition of labour, and attention to minutiae, which, circumstanced as they are, nothing could induce us to require at their hands, but a clear conviction that it is the imperative duty of the Committee to obtain those details, on the acquisition of which the success of the plan altogether depends. To facilitate this, Forms of Account have been prepared, and will be immediately forwarded to the several Missions: and, after this full statement of our views, we confidently rely on the Representatives of the Society, in its different Missions, not to suffer the uniformity of our system to be disturbed by the want of that information which it is in their power to furnish, and which it is essential to the execution of our plan that they should regularly transmit.

We cannot close this Report without observing, that the nature of our investigation led us in a course rather to bring into view the failings of the Society—if failings there were—than to dwell upon its great excellencies. It should also be recollected, that our part has been, not so much to contemplate the general nature and objects of the Society, as to examine into the minutiae of its proceedings, and to rectify minor defects of detail, where such defects appeared. But let it not be supposed that we are insensible to its merits; or that our affection to its Cause, or our respect for its Conductors, has been diminished. We bear our fullest testimony to the cordiality and good feeling manifested by all the Secretaries, throughout our prolonged inquiry: and we rise from the laborious task assigned to us, not only with unabated affection for the Society, but with an increased impression of the magnitude of its objects, and of its claim to our most efficient support.

In tracing the operations of the Society through every quarter of the globe, we are compelled to acknowledge, that darkness covereth the earth and gross darkness the people; and that to live degraded, and to die hopeless, is the lot of millions of human beings like ourselves—of beings who are to live for ever!

The gift of Christianity would be to them the greatest of temporal mercies: it would be instruction, civilization, peace, industry, and the enjoyments of social life, to those who are now living in ignorance, wretchedness, war, cruelty, and licentiousness. Here alone would appear to be inducements sufficient—to those to whom it may be said, Freely ye have received, freely give—to come forward to their help. But further: we cannot close our eyes to the more momentous consideration, that, degraded and wretched as they are, they are yet immortal beings, who must enjoy or suffer to all eternity; that many are hourly dropping into the grave without the knowledge of the only way by which man can be saved: and we are constrained to ask ourselves, whether, with our views of the worth of the human soul, we are duly using the means within our power to hasten the day of their deliverance.

Considering the high and important objects of the Church Missionary Society—the millions now living, and the myriads yet unborn, whose eternal happiness it contemplates; and satisfied with the integrity and personal piety of those to whom the direction of its affairs has been entrusted; we confidently and earnestly recommend the Society to the continued and more active support of the Christian Public.

APPENDIX III.

(See Page 35.)

REGULATIONS FOR THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY'S INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON.General Regulations.

I. THAT the Society's Establishment at Islington be called the "Church Missionary Institution."

II. That the object of the Institution is, the Education and Preparation of Missionary Students for Missionary Labours, by the application of such means as may be found best calculated, under the Blessing of God, to attain that end.

III. That the Institution be placed under the direction of a Principal, to be appointed by the Committee; who shall be assisted in his duties by a Tutor;—that the said Tutor be nominated by the Principal, and appointed by the Committee; and that he be removable by the Committee or Principal.

IV. That, in prosecution of the object stated in Regulation II, the whole of the Studies and arrangement of the Institution be directed with a view to assimilate it rather to the circumstances of a Large Family, than to those of a Collegiate Establishment.

V. That it be, therefore, the duty of the Principal and Tutor to foster and promote that social and confidential intercourse with the Students, which, without relaxation of discipline, may enable them to exert that kindly and paternal influence over the minds of the Students, which is calculated to operate so beneficially in duly preparing them for their work.

VI. That, in furtherance of the object stated in the preceding Regulation, the Principal be earnestly requested to encourage the Students to come to him for private conference; and that as much time as practicable be given by him to this intercourse with the Students: in order to facilitate which, hours be specified by the Principal, as he may find most convenient, wherein they may have daily access to him for that purpose.

VII. That the Principal, his Family, and the Tutor, meet the Students and Domestics of the Establishment, for the purpose of Prayer and expounding the Scriptures, Morning and Evening.

VIII. That the conducting of Domestic Worship be considered as more peculiarly the province of the Principal; but that in his unavoidable absence, it be conducted by the Tutor.

IX. That the Family Devotions of the Saturday Evening be conducted with a special reference to Missionary Proceedings; and that the Meeting of that Evening be considered as a Missionary Prayer Meeting of the Students and Family; no other person being admissible, but on the invitation of the Principal.

X. That the Tutor be expected, habitually, to take his Meals with the Students; and the Principal as frequently as his convenience will permit.

Salaries of Principal and Tutor.

XI. That a Salary of 350*l.* per Annum be allowed to the Principal, with liberty to employ the Sunday Morning and Afternoon as he may see fit; that he reside in the House at the West End of the Building ; and that the said Salary and Residence be without the addition of any perquisites, except participation in the Public Meals.

XII. That the Tutor be a Clergyman ; that a Salary of 150*l.* per Annum be allowed to him ; that he reside within the Institution and participate in the Public Meals ; and that he hold himself ready to render such assistance on Sundays, in furtherance of the Society's objects, as he may be able to do without being required to sleep out of the Institution.

Duties of the Principal and Tutor.

XIII. That the entire direction of the whole of the Educational and Domestic concerns of the Institution be vested solely in the Principal, under the superintendence of the Committee of Visitors.

XIV. That it be peculiarly the province of the Principal to conduct the Theological Studies of the Students ; to prepare them for Holy Orders ; and to instruct them in rightly expounding the Holy Scriptures and in imparting religious knowledge to others ;—and that he endeavour to become intimately acquainted with the character, talents, dispositions, and attainments of each Student, so as to enable him to furnish the Committee of Correspondence with the requisite information as to their respective qualifications, when the period shall arrive for fixing their destination.

XV. That the Principal be expected to deliver a Course of Lectures to the Students on Sunday Evenings, directed more particularly to their personal edification.

XVI. That the Principal be requested to communicate to the Students, in writing, any Resolution of the Committee respecting them, which may be transmitted to him by the Secretaries.

XVII. That, for the maintenance of Discipline, the Principal be authorised, in case of extreme urgency, to remove a Student from the Institution ; but that, in any such instance, the Principal do give immediate notice thereof to the Secretaries, who shall forthwith summon a Meeting of the Committee of Visitors for the consideration of the case.

XVIII. That it be referred to the Principal to retain and remove the Domestic servants of the Establishment, as he may see necessary : it being understood, that the wages of the Housekeeper are not to exceed 30*l.* per Annum ; those of the Porter, 25*l.* per Annum ; and those of the Female Servants what are usual in the middle class of society.

XIX. That the Tutor be more particularly charged with the Literary and Scientific Education of the Students, under the direction of the Principal.

Course of Study.

XX. That the following be the general Course of Study to be pursued in the Institution ; to be modified in reference to the several Students as their capacity, previous attainments, or future destination, may require :—

1. That the Students designed for Holy Orders receive instruction in the Latin and Greek Languages : reference being had, in respect to the measure of that instruction, to the capacity and destination of the Student.

2. That the Students intended for Holy Orders be all versed in the Greek and Hebrew Scriptures ; and that some acquire the rudiments of one or more other Languages, as the Mission to which they are destined may require.

3. That attention be paid to English Composition ; and that other Modern Languages be taught as may be found necessary.

4. That all the Students be instructed in Arithmetic, Geography, and History ; the Elements of Natural History and of Natural Philosophy ; and, so far as circumstances may allow, in Medicine, Botany, and Chemistry.

5. That Lectures be delivered on Divinity, and such branches of Knowledge as may be deemed especially subsidiary to a sound acquaintance with it.

6. That the Study of History, both Ecclesiastical and General, be steadily pursued by the more-advanced Students ; such information imparted as may enable the Missionaries to trace to their source, in the narration, institutions, and doctrines of the Bible, the various forms of Idolatry; and such a knowledge of Eastern Manners and Customs acquired, as may serve to illustrate the Scriptures.

7. That the Students be trained, by proper Exercises, to the Exposition of the Scriptures, the Composition of Sermons, and the most simple and effectual method of communicating knowledge to others.

8. That the Students be taught Psalmody: and that they be encouraged to acquaint themselves with useful Mechanical Arts; with the principles of Agriculture and Gardening; and with such other departments of Knowledge as may enhance their influence with the people among whom they labour, by contributing to their social improvement.

9. That the System of Mutual Instruction be adopted in the Institution, so far as it may contribute to the economical and efficient education of the Younger Students, and to the preparation of the Elder for their future labours; and that every Student attend a well-organised National School and Infant School, during some period of his residence in the Institution, so as to become thoroughly acquainted with both those Systems of Education, previously to his departure to his Station.

10. That, in conformity with the denomination and profession of the Church Missionary Society, pains be taken, not only to open to the Student the Doctrines of the United Church of England and Ireland, and their agreement with the Holy Scriptures, but also to impress on the minds of the Students due reverence for its Ordinances and Formularies; especial attention being paid to the Principles of the Reformation, particularly as exemplified in the History of our own Church.

11. That it be a leading aim, in the Domestic Arrangements of the Institution, to promote, so far as is compatible with such an Establishment, that hardness of mind, that alertness and vigilance, that patience of labour, that spirit of humility and mutual kindness, that subjugation of self-conceit and self-will, that superiority to bodily ease and gratification, that simplicity of character and plainness of manner, which are indispensable qualifications of a True Missionary.

12. That the object of the Institution, as expressly founded for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom in the world, be ever kept in view; and that suitable means be used to maintain among the Students a spirit of Prayer, of devout communion with Christ, of dependence on the influences of the Holy Ghost, of detachment from the world, and of devotedness to their high and holy calling as Ambassadors for Christ, sent forth to beseech, in His stead, a guilty world to be reconciled to God.

Discipline.

XXI. That, for the good Order and Discipline of the Institution, the following Regulations be adopted:—

1. That the Students be distributed into Four Classes; viz. Ordained, Candidates, Catechists, and Probationers.

2. That the Students take place, in their respective Classes, according to the date of their severally entering the Institution: but that, on being admitted to Holy Orders, the Student precede all the Unordained; and that any fresher, who has obtained a Degree in one of the Learned Professions, take his place next to the Ordained.

3. That, in order to draw a line of distinction between the Ordained, the Candidates, the Catechists, and the Probationers, sufficient for practical utility, without being vexatious, it is proposed—

(1) That it be the duty of the Senior Clergyman (in English Orders) to communicate directly to every new comer, the Laws and Regulations of the Institution.

(2) That it will be incumbent on the Senior, and on each of the Ordained, to watch over the discipline of the Institution; to notice to the parties, with brotherly kindness, any deviations from the discipline; and to report to the Principal every serious infraction of the Laws.

REGULATIONS FOR THE SOCIETY'S INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON. 97

(3) That, should any of the Students observe in any of his companions what he conscientiously believes to be inconsistent with the Missionary Character, it will be his bounden duty to confer on the same with one or more of the Ordained, in order that the Principal may be apprised of the circumstance, should that be deemed necessary.

(4) That no Student be absent from dinner without the sanction of the Principal; except the Clergymen, who are permitted to be so once a week.

(5) That Candidates, including Catechists, may be absent from the third meal once a week, without previous notice: and the Clergymen are not required to ask that permission at all; but they will be expected to use their privilege with wisdom and moderation.

(6) That Probationers must always obtain the sanction of the Principal before they stay away from any of the meals.

(7) That it will be the province of the Junior Candidate to notice whether all the Students are present at meals, and to enter the names of Absentees in a book kept for that purpose, to be laid before the Principal every Morning: and that it be the duty of the Senior Probationer to see that the fire is put out, and no candles left burning in the Public Rooms after bed-time.

4. That there shall be Three Meals in the day:—Breakfast, at a quarter-before-eight; Dinner, at half-past-two; and Tea and Supper, at seven. On Sunday Afternoon, the hour of Tea will be a quarter-past-five o'clock; and there will be Supper after the Evening Lecture.

5. That certain Books of Piety and Devotion, of which a List shall be prepared by the Principal, pass among the Students, for their private reading; that they shall be exhorted to dedicate a good portion of time, between rising and breakfast, to Private Devotion, and to the perusal of the Bible and of a portion, perhaps, of the above-mentioned Works; and that the Principal assist the Students, by his recommendation, in choosing books out of the said List.

6. That every Student be at home and present at Evening Prayer, unless leave of absence have been granted.

7. That any Student staying out all night be reported to the Visiting Committee, at their next usual Meeting; or to a Meeting to be especially convened for the purpose, should circumstances require.

8. That no one may change his Sleeping-room without the consent of the Principal.

9. That all the Pupils retire, immediately after Evening Prayer, to their respective apartments, and not return to the Public Rooms before the next morning.

10. That the Gate of the Institution be closed at seven o'clock in the evening, from Michaelmas to Lady-Day, and at nine o'clock from Lady-Day to Michaelmas: after which no Student can go out, without a written order from the Principal, or, in his absence, the Tutor.

Library.

XXII. That, in order to render the Library conveniently and advantageously accessible to the Students, the following Regulations be adopted:—

1. That the Library be under the care of a Librarian and a Deputy Librarian, appointed, from among the Students, by the Principal.

2. That it be divided into three Classes: (1) of Books not to be taken from the shelf, without leave of the Principal; (2) such as may be consulted in the Library, but must not be removed thence; (3) such as may be taken into the Private Rooms of the Students.

3. That the Librarian, or Deputy Librarian, attend, for a quarter of an hour every morning, immediately after Family Prayer, to give out such books as any Student may desire for his private use: none being allowed to take them, except through the hands of the Librarian: and each book given out shall be regularly entered.

4. That no book be lent out of the Institution: nor are the Students to transfer them from one to another.

5. That, on the First Monday of every Month, all the books be brought in by the several Students, after Morning Prayer, to be inspected by the Librarians; both of whom shall attend on that occasion, to see if any be missing, or damaged, or have been kept an unreasonable time; and to report accordingly.

6. That none of the Students may appropriate to his own use any of the books during his residence, or take any with him at his departure, without express permission from the Principal.

Committee of Visitors.

XXIII. That a Committee be annually appointed, at the First Meeting of the Committee after the General Meeting in May, to consist of Nine Members, together with the Principal and the Secretaries; which Committee shall exercise a general superintendence over the concerns of the Institution; and that Three Members, exclusive of the Secretaries, constitute a Quorum.

XXIV. That the said Committee do meet at the Institution once a Quarter, or oftener as circumstances may require, to examine into the state of the Institution; and that they present the Minutes of their Proceedings to the General Committee, for confirmation.

XXV. That it be considered as a part of the duty of the Visiting Committee to avail themselves of all opportunities, which their visits to the Institution may afford, of forming a personal acquaintance with the character and general qualifications of each Student.

XXVI. That, in the event of its becoming necessary to remove any Student from the Institution, the power of doing so shall be vested absolutely in the Committee of Visitors, (except as provided by the XIIIth Regulation); who shall report to the next Meeting of the General Committee the circumstances of any such case.

Domestic Economy.

XXVII. That the diet of the Students be simple; and the whole of the domestic accommodations as plain and economical as is consistent with health and cleanliness.

House Committee.

XXVIII. That a Committee be appointed, annually, to direct the supply of Provisions, Furniture, &c. for the Institution, and to regulate all matters connected with the Household Expenditure.

Students.

XXIX. That there be a Vacation for six weeks, commencing on the 1st of August in each year; and that each Student be expected to return to the Institution without fail, previously to the day on which it opens after the Vacation.

XXX. That, in case of emergency, the Principal be authorised to grant leave of absence to a Student in the interval between the Vacations: the reasons of such absence to be reported by the Principal to the next Meeting of the Committee of Visitors.

XXXI. That no Student quit the Institution, unless in the case contemplated in the XVIIth Regulation, without previously attending a Meeting of the Committee of Visitors, that they may have an opportunity of conferring with him on the subject, before he carry his intention into execution.

XXXII. That, adverting to the Regulation of the Committee respecting Marriage, and to the important bearing of this relation on the labours and usefulness of a Missionary, the taking of any step toward the formation of a Matrimonial Engagement by any Student, without the previous sanction of the Committee of Correspondence, be considered as a relinquishment, on his part, of his connection with the Society.

XXXIII. That the serious interference of many visiting acquaintances with the Discipline and Course of Study in the Institution be pointed out to the

REGULATIONS FOR THE SOCIETY'S INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON. 99

Students; and that abstinence in this respect be earnestly and affectionately pressed upon them, as essential to the due improvement of their time, while under instruction in the Institution.

XXXIV. That it is most earnestly recommended to all the Students, diligently to improve to Devotional Purposes those parts of the Lord's Day when not engaged in attending Public Worship, or occupied as Teachers in a Sunday School.

XXXV. That an Examination of the Students take place annually, both in their general and Oriental Studies, with the view of ascertaining their proficiency.

XXXVI. That the Students attend such Place or Places of Worship on the Lord's Day as the Principal may direct.

XXXVII. That no Student, while residing in the Institution, be permitted to take part in the proceedings of any Public Meeting.

XXXVIII. That facilities be afforded to the Students intended for Holy Orders in forming an early personal acquaintance with Beneficed Clergymen who are Members of the Society, in order to their obtaining regular Testimonials when proposed to the Bishop of London for Ordination.

XXXIX. That it be expected of every Student, that he conscientiously avoid contracting debt on any account whatever, as inconsistent with the character of a Missionary Student and with his obligations to the Society; and, that there may be no pretext for doing so, the allowance made by the Society, for their clothes and other necessary personal expenses, will always be paid one quarter in advance.

XL. That each Student be expected to be strictly attentive to order and punctuality in his duties and engagements; to habituate himself to neatness and cleanliness in his person, dress, apartment, &c.; to use with care the books, clothes, and other articles provided for him by the Society; to practise the most rigid economy in all his expenditure; and to keep an exact and regular account of the expenditure of all money received from the Society.

XLI. That, bearing in mind the importance of bodily health and strength to a Missionary's usefulness, the Committee rely on the Students not to neglect the means of preserving these blessings; and especially that they take active exercise daily, by walking, or working in the Garden or the Carpenter's Shop; and that, in furtherance of this object, it be recommended to the Students to take their walks into the Country rather than into the Town, and to form such personal habits as may render them least liable to suffer in their health from exposure to wet and cold.

XLII. That when the destination of a Student is fixed, he be required to address a Letter to the Secretaries, through the Principal, expressing his concurrence in the decision of the Committee.

XLIII. That the Institution Regulations be entered in a Book; which Book each Student shall be required to sign, in attestation of his assent to them; and that all new Regulations be entered in the same Book, and be likewise signed by each Student.

XLIV. That, as no one is received into the Institution but in the belief that he is a partaker of the Grace of God, it be deeply impressed on the minds of all the Students, that the Committee mainly rely on their conscientious sense of obligation, as Christian Men, for the due observance of the Regulations of the Institution, and their general good conduct while residing in it.

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE TO THE REV. JOSEPH MARSH, PROCEEDING TO MADRAS: DELIVERED APRIL 1, 1830.

DEARLY BELOVED IN THE LORD—

THE Committee have long felt the importance of training up, in each of the Society's Missions, Pious Natives to be Instructors to their Countrymen: their convictions on this point have been strengthened year by year; and they are thankful to be able to send you out to Madras for the furtherance of this desirable object in that Presidency.

You have had the advantage of several years' instruction at the Institution of the Society in Islington; and your more recent studies have had immediate reference to the situation which the Committee now wish you to fill, and in which they trust that, by the blessing of God, you may be the instrument of much good to His Church,

The general state of the South-India Mission is encouraging, and the growth of Education in particular will materially facilitate your labours. The Committee hope that, from the various Schools in that Mission, and more especially from the Seminaries already established, promising Youths may be brought together under your care at Madras, for the purpose of receiving that further instruction which may fit them for future usefulness.

From the Instructions already given to Missionaries proceeding to other Stations you will gain information on the general views of the Committee on this subject; and those to Mr. Haensel, in particular, will shew you the mind of the Committee as to the preparation of Native Youths to be Teachers among their Countrymen, and as to the nature of the education which they are to receive.

The Tamul, as the Native Language in the part of India in which you are about to commence your labours, will require your first attention: and our hope is, that you may soon be enabled familiarly to use that language, and avail yourself of all the advantages with which the labours of your Predecessors may have furnished you.

The Committee would, in the first instance, give you some general principles which may guide and encourage you in your future proceedings.

Ever remember, that the Word of Christ, made effectual by the power of the Holy Ghost, is the chief means of man's recovery, and that there is no case to which that Word is not, in some of its parts, adapted. Your main efforts, then, should be directed to bring the plain declarations of the Holy Scriptures suitably and seasonably under the notice of those committed to your charge; accompanying such efforts with prayer for the descent of the Holy Spirit, and with full confidence that this promised blessing shall not be withheld.

This is your office and work, as the Sower of the Seed and the Instructor of the Youths: the success of the work does not belong to you. Should your hopes be disappointed, you should carefully avoid connecting want of success with any unfitness of the truths of Scripture to the Heathen Mind. The difficulty is in the natural love of sin, which is in the human heart, and the impossibility of man's producing any love for the Truth, or giving the conscience any saving light. The work of spiritual illumination to the saving of the soul, and of real conversion of heart, is exclusively God's; and it should be your endeavour to let God appear in it, that He only may have all the glory.

You will probably be tempted with over-anxiety, about immediate success, and rapid progress: the Committee would recommend you, whatever be the results or however discouraging the prospects, to feel that you are fulfilling your office, and to enjoy a quiet satisfaction in casting in the seed of the Word from day to day. You have reason to rejoice in those lesser benefits which Christian Instruction produces, even when it fails for a shorter or longer time, or even finally, of its greatest blessing. Missionaries have often had occasion to trace the connection of such lesser benefits, in various ways, with the future progress of the Kingdom of Christ in the conversion of sinners, and in the confirmation and establishment of the Truth.

When the mind of a Native Youth is opened to a state of inquiry after the Truth, and there is considerable spiritual excitement, some of your Brethren have found it advantageous to leave such a mind a good deal to itself; taking care to guard it against all temptations of a moral nature, and against any breach of conscience, or in any instance acting against its own convictions. Hence you need not be too anxious to remove immediately a doubt that may arise in the mind of a Student or Inquirer, nor to answer every objection. Daily reading, and free oral instruction, rather than argument and discussion, will remove, and possibly far more quickly than you may have imagined, the great majority of difficulties and objections. When an objection has been discussed and answered, the mind becomes subtle in starting fresh objections; and therefore the better way has been found to be, to tell the Pupil that objections will wear away as he proceeds.

The Committee will now enter more particularly into the nature of the undertaking in which it is their wish that you should be immediately engaged.

Deeply impressed with the importance of Native Agency, under the Divine Blessing, to the extensive diffusion of Christianity in a Heathen Land, the Committee have long been desirous to bring forward Natives at the earliest practicable period, in all the Society's Missions, for Catechists and Schoolmasters. In prosecution of this design, the Christian Institution was formed in Sierra Leone: and Seminaries have been established in different Missions, as soon as Native Youths, suitably disposed, were raised up. As the Youths received into such a Seminary are drawn principally from the Schools of the Station, in which they had grown up under the instruction and pastoral superintendence of the Missionary, much time is requisite to bring the system into effective operation. Through the blessing of God, however, on the means which have been employed, such Seminaries are growing up in all the long-established Missions of the Society. In the South-India Mission they are found in Madras and Tinnevely, and that under circumstances of considerable promise. The object of the Establishment which it is intended to place under your charge in Madras, is, to carry this system one step further: herein it is designed to collect the most pious, intelligent, and advanced Youths from all parts of the Mission, with a view to their being prepared, by the grace of God, for Native Missionaries. The charge, therefore, confided to you is at once most interesting and most important. When it shall please God to raise up, under His Blessing on the due use of means adapted to this end, a body of well-instructed and pious Native Missionaries, established in the Truth and experienced in the Divine Life, we may look forward to the rapid diffusion of the grace and blessings of the Gospel. One really able, consistent, and devoted Native Missionary will be a peculiar blessing to a Station. But, for the raising and preparation of such a Missionary, much time, labour, patience, and assiduity, and many prayers, must, in the ordinary course of events, be necessary. Let these, then, be employed by you, with believing perseverance. Be not discouraged at delay and disappointment. It is yours to plant and water; God's to give the increase: and doubtless His Blessing will not be withheld from labours so directed and so pursued. But beware of attempting too much. On no account receive under your care a greater number of Youths than you can yourself instruct and superintend. Three or four, thus trained up and prepared, will probably, in the event, be found more effective as Missionaries to their Countrymen; and be the instruments of more solid and permanent good among them, than thrice or even ten times that number of half-educated, undisciplined, and ill-established Teachers. The Apostolic Rule is—Not a novice; lest, being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the Devil. The Christian Minister must be blameless, as the Steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre; but a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate; holding fast the faithful Word as he hath been taught, that he may be able, by sound doctrine, both to exhort, and to convince the gainsayers.

To be instrumental in raising up from among the Natives of India, now degraded and demoralized by ignorance and superstition, Preachers of the Everlasting Gospel, thus renewed, purified, enlightened, and heavenly-minded, is to enjoy one of the richest blessings which can be bestowed on men in this world of sin and sorrow.

The Committee would willingly now have entered on an outline of the particular course of Instruction to be given to the Pupils who will be placed under your care; but they feel the want of that full local information which can only be obtained on the spot. They feel, too, that while your lengthened residence in the Institution has given you many advantages for forming the best plans for putting the Native Institution in Madras on an efficient footing, you will also find, when you arrive there, in our Corresponding Committee, those friends who are possessed of valuable information, and who will gladly render you every facility in their power toward the accomplishment of the important object of your labours.

On the Books to be used in the instruction of the Pupils, you will observe the Catechetical and other Works which the Committee recommended to Mr. Haensel on his proceeding to take charge of the Institution in Sierra Leone. Such a Work as "Dr. Watts's First Catechism" is a library of Theological Knowledge for a Hindoo. This, or some Elementary Book equally simple, should be studied and re-studied for the first five years. Avoid many Books. The frequent repetition of first principles is every thing.—Nor is it desirable to spend your time in making Digests of your own: we apprehend that you will find those already made quite sufficient for your purposes. It is also important to be accurate in your definition of the simplest terms.

When you commence the work of Translation you will perceive how indistinct are your ideas of many words that are in common use.

With regard to your conduct to the Natives in general, whenever you are tempted to interfere to get justice done to an oppressed Native, let the reply of our Lord Jesus Christ, when he was asked to divide an inheritance—Who made me a judge or divider over you—be your guide. Where there is one case in which it would be right to interfere, there is a very large proportion in which it would be ruinous to your usefulness to do so, and a still larger proportion in which it would be wrong and injurious. God, in His Providence, may give you full knowledge of some particular case, and intimacy and influence with some individual in authority; but, in all instances, be very slow to bring the temporal concerns of the Natives before the Civil Power.

Much depends on the state of your Household: be watchful, therefore, over it, and over the whole Institution. Consider each one as a member of your family: let their wants, and sorrows, and concerns be in a measure personal. Endeavour to repress in each member of your house a disposition to idle tales; and impress on them—what a Hindoo immediately recognises—the unseemliness of one member of a family talking to others about the concerns of a family. Let each be brought to feel that he is personally interested in the family, and that some of its honour and credit is in his hands.

Attract as little notice as possible. Talk not much of your intended plans and your prospects of success; but go on quietly and constantly, not attempting too much at once, nor seeking to crowd the business of a twelvemonth into a day.

Look well to your own heart. We know, by some little experience, as well as by the plain declarations of Scripture, that it is fearfully deceitful and evil. Watch, then, and pray that you enter not into temptations; which will not be diminished, but multiplied, on your leaving a Christian and dwelling in a Heathen Country.

Be aware of the temptations of your peculiar station. Desire not much learning, even of a Scriptural kind; nor be ambitiously pursuing great usefulness: much pride lurks in such wishes. Aim to bring your whole mind and character practically under the influence of the great facts and doctrines of Scripture: seek a full knowledge of your entire dependence on Christ; and live near to Him, as one who is of no use to Him, but as He is pleased to use you.

Wherever you are, depart not from your proper character as the Missionary of our Lord Christ; and always endeavour to act in that meek and holy spirit which becomes one who sustains that holy office. Take cheerfully that station, in each society into which you enter, which is yielded to you as the Servant of the Lord; and forget not, even in your hours of privacy and of relaxation, that this is your character.

Let the Native Youths committed to your care be entwined about your heart; and the glory of the Redeemer, in their salvation and in fitting them for instruments of salvation to others, fill your desires, and be the constant subject of your prayers.

Let self-denial mark your character and conduct. Grow in it; and be thankful for every discipline which humbles and mortifies self.

Expect nothing from man. The Christian's motto is—My soul, wait thou ONLY upon God ; for my expectation is from Him.

Every thing depends on your close union with Christ: as you feel your own sinfulness and helplessness and misery, and thence, under the gracious guidance of the Holy Spirit, are led to Christ, to draw life and strength from Him, you will gather a holy boldness and courage to declare His blessed Gospel, a compassionate and tender spirit toward all your fellow-sinners, with a holy and devoted determination to do the whole will of God.

We would, therefore, in conclusion, affectionately exhort you to abide in Christ—abide in His Word, abide in Faith, abide in Prayer. Often meditate on such portions of Scripture as the last discourse of Christ with his Apostles: let the Bible be studied with Prayer, that its sacred contents may be impressed upon your heart. Mark how the Holy Redeemer devoted a portion of His time to Prayer, in the midst of a life of incessant labour. Copy His example, and set apart days for Humiliation and Prayer: so, we believe, you will find a blessing attending your labours, and your Master's Name will be glorified.

Our hearty prayers shall follow you. May it appear in the Great Day, that you and we have laboured with a single eye in the service of Christ! and may each of us receive that blessed welcome—Well done, good and faithful Servant! Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

positions of the picture on the last illustration of Christ with his Apostles: let the Bible be studied with the picture, that the sacred scenes may be impressed upon your heart. Mark how the Holy Redeemer has shed a ray of light upon the world. They who are in the light of Christ are in the light of the world. Let the picture be a mirror to your heart, and let it be a source of comfort and joy. Let it be a source of instruction and warning. Let it be a source of love and devotion. Let it be a source of hope and faith. Let it be a source of peace and joy. Let it be a source of life and salvation. Let it be a source of glory and honor. LEGACIES.

By the Third Law of the Society, Executors paying Bequests to the amount of Fifty Pounds become Members of the Society for Life. If there be more Executors than one, and the Legacy be not of sufficient amount to constitute each Executor a Member for Life, the Executor first named in the Will is considered to be the Member.

Legacies under 50l. which have been acknowledged in former Years are omitted in the present List.
